Your O.A.T. Adventure Travel Planning Guide[®]

New! Eastern Balkan Discovery: Bulgaria
& Romania

2025

Overseas Adventure Travel®

347 Congress Street, Boston, MA 02210

Dear Traveler,

I am thrilled that you are considering exploring the world with O.A.T. There are so many wonderful destinations to discover, and the itinerary described inside is a perfect way to fulfill a travel dream.

When you join us, you will slip seamlessly into local life as you explore off the beaten path in your small group. Like all our itineraries, this one is designed to give you an intimate understanding of your destination, not just a superficial view. You will get to know community leaders and try your hand at local trades during your A Day in the Life experience, share traditional fare and lively conversation during a Home-Hosted Visit, discuss the Controversial Topics impacting everyday life, and visit sites supported by Grand Circle Foundation. And if you choose to travel solo, you will enjoy all these cultural experiences at an unmatched value, with our FREE Single Supplements—just one of the reasons we continue to be the leader in solo travel.

To ensure you experience the true culture and feel supported every step of the way, we provide the services of a local Trip Experience Leader from the beginning of your adventure to the end. Along with introducing you to the history and culture of their homeland, these friendly experts will gladly help you out with any special requests to make your trip even more special. You can also rely on the seasoned team at our regional office, who are ready to help 24/7 in case any unexpected circumstances arise.

Plus, you can put your own personal stamp on your trip, like the 87% of our travelers who personalize their experience. Perhaps you will choose to see more of your destination by adding an optional trip extension to your itinerary. You can also arrive a few days early to explore independently and get acclimated, customize your air itinerary, and more.

I hope you find this Travel Planning Guide helpful. If you have any further questions, do not hesitate to contact one of our Travel Counselors at 1-800-955-1925.

Warm regards,

Harriet R. Lewis

YOUR DETAILED ITINERARY

BEGIN YOUR ADVENTURE WITH AN OPTIONAL PRE-TRIP EXTENSION

5 nights in Thessaloniki & Mount Olympus

Day 1 Fly to Thessaloniki, Greece

Day 2 Arrive in Thessaloniki

Day 3 Explore Thessaloniki

Day 4 Thessaloniki • Archaeological Site of Pella • Edessa Waterfalls

Day 5 Thessaloniki • Royal Tombs of Aigai • Mount Olympus

Day 6 Thessaloniki • Optional Kerkini Lake tour

Day 7 Transfer to Sofia, Bulgaria • Join main trip

Day 1 Depart U.S.

Depart the U.S. on your flight to Sofia, Bulgaria.

Day 2 Arrive in Sofia, Bulgaria

- Destination: Sofia
- Included Meals: Dinner
- Accommodations: Central Park Hotel or similar

Afternoon: Arrive in Bulgaria today after your international flight and transfer to our hotel in Sofia via private motorcoach. Our Trip Experience Leader will meet you there, and together you'll meet your fellow travelers—including those who have arrived from our pre-trip extension: Thessaloniki & Mount Olympus. Afterwards, set off on an orientation walk of the area with our Trip Experience Leader.

Dinner: At a local restaurant.

Evening: Free to spend as you wish.

Day 3 Explore Sofia

- Destination: Sofia
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner
- Accommodations: Central Park Hotel or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: After breakfast this morning, we'll meet our fellow travelers and sit down with our Trip Experience Leader for a Welcome Briefing. During this briefing, our Trip Experience Leader will review our itinerary in more detail (including any changes that may need to occur). Our Trip Experience Leader will also discuss logistics, safety and emergency procedures, and answer questions we may have.

Then, we'll kick off our Eastern Europe adventure with a walking tour of Sofia's Old Town with a local guide.

Bulgaria's charming capital city boasts over 2,000 years of history—from the Romans and Ottomans to the more recent Soviet occupation. The Old Town offers visitors a look at this long and varied past with an array of ancient sites, onion-domed churches, and even the odd Communist monument. We'll begin our tour through history at Sofia's recently restored ancient Roman city of Serdica, spread across five miles of the Bulgarian capital. The complex includes the foundations of ancient homes, an amphitheater, and the well-preserved Decumanus Maximus—Serdica's main Roman road.

Sofia is also home to many impressive modern government buildings, including the Palace of Justice. The city's biggest national architectural monument, the Palace of Justice is one of the only original government buildings to retain its initial purpose since its completion in 1940—housing all the courts of Sofia under its grand vaulted ceilings.

Our walking tour will wrap up at Alexander Nevsky Cathedral, one of the largest Eastern Orthodox cathedrals in the world. Built between 1882 and 1924, the Neo-Byzantine church was named for medieval Russian prince Saint Alexander Nevsky and honors those who died during the Russo-Turkish War of 1877-1878, when Bulgaria won its independence from the Ottoman Empire.

Lunch: On your own in Sofia. Perhaps you'll try shopska salad, a traditional Bulgarian salad made with cucumbers, tomatoes, onions, peppers, and parsley, topped with grated Bulgarian white cheese.

Afternoon: The rest of the afternoon is free for independent exploration. You may wish to visit posh Vitosha Boulevard, known for its high-end boutiques and fashion houses as well as striking views of Vitosha Mountain in the distance.

Dinner: Tonight, we'll enjoy a Welcome Dinner at a local restaurant.

Evening: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Day 4 Sofia • Visit Rila Monastery • Plovdiv

- Destination: Plovdiv
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner
- Accommodations: Hotel in Plovdiv or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today we will visit Rila Monastery, UNESCO Heritage Site. We'll drive south of Sofia, through the mountains and beech tree forests, and arrive around two hours later to the medieval monastery, founded in the tenth century by followers of Saint Ivan of Rila for whom the structure is named. The first and largest monastery in Bulgaria, the magnificent black and white complex is both an architectural gem and an historic landmark, as it became a spiritual haven and keeper of Bulgarian culture throughout the Ottoman occupation.

But perhaps what the monastery is best known for, is its collection of vibrant fresco paintings which completely cover the walls and ceiling of the outer corridors of the church. Completed in 1846, the frescoes depict bible stories, saints, and other religious icons—created by Bulgarian muralist Zahari Zograf and his brother, the icon artist Dimitar Zograf. We'll explore the historic complex and admire its colorful paintings with a local expert as our guide.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: After lunch, we'll drive to our next destination: The ancient city of Plovdiv. We'll check into our hotel, and enjoy a bit of free time to settle in and relax after our overland journey.

Dinner: At a local restaurant.

Evening: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Day 5 Explore Plovdiv

- Destination: Plovdiv
- Included Meals: Breakfast
- Accommodations: Hotel in Plovdiv or similar

Activity Note: Today's walking tour of Plovdiv will include navigating over uneven cobbled streets.

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today, we'll explore the ancient city of Plovdiv with a local guide.

Nestled within seven hills, Plovdiv is Europe's oldest continuously inhabited city. Cobblestone streets wind past ancient Roman ruins and beautifully preserved Ottoman-era townhouses alike. We'll witness this intertwining of history during a walking tour with our local guide. Our first stop will be the city's oldest structure—an impressive Roman Amphitheater. The ancient theater is one of the world's best-preserved and is still used today for modern dramatic and musical performances.

Next, we will visit the city's medieval Dzhumaya Mosque. Constructed between 1363–1364, it is one of the oldest mosques in Bulgaria. Inside its large, imposing exterior are intricate wall-paintings of flowers, leaves, and scrolling branches.

The rest of the morning is free to discover the charms of Plovdiv at your own pace.

Lunch: On your own in Plovdiv—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Afternoon: The remainder of the day is on your own. You may wish to discover the city's popular Kapana neighborhood, Plovdiv's energetic creative district.

Dinner: On your own.

Evening: On your own. You may wish to head to the hotel's bar for a nightcap.

Day 6 Plovdiv • Explore Kazanlak • Veliko Tarnovo

- Destination: Veliko Tarnovo
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch
- Accommodations: Gurko Hotel or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: This morning, we'll check out of our hotel and begin our drive to Veliko Tarnovo. Along the way, we will stop to discover the rural town of Kazanlak, nestled at the foot of the Balkan Mountains and situated in the middle of Bulgaria's Valley of Roses. Famous for its Museum of Roses, Kazanlak is also home to the largest and best preserved ancient Thracian tombs, a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: After lunch, we'll continue our journey to Veliko Tarnovo, arriving later this afternoon. We will settle into our hotel rooms, then set off for a vicinity walk of the area surrounding our hotel with our Trip Experience Leader.

Dinner: On your own in Veliko Tarnovo. This region is renowned for its cured meats—you may wish to seek out some dry-cured pork or traditional Gornooryahovski sudzhuk (sausage).

Evening: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Day 7 Visit Asenevtsi Monument • Explore Arbanassi • Home-Hosted Dinner

- Destination: Veliko Tarnovo
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner
- Accommodations: Gurko Hotel or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: This morning, we'll visit the majestic Asenevtsi Monument. This lofty statue was built in 1985 to celebrate the 800th anniversary of brothers Asen, Petar, Kaloyan, and Ivan Asen II leading the uprising which culminated in the liberation of Bulgaria from the Byzantine Empire.

We'll next head back into town and discover Samovodska Charshiya, a market square dedicated to the artisans of Veliko Tarnovo. In the 19th century, the street hosted vendors from the surrounding villages who would come to sell their produce and other hand-made wares. Today, Samovodska Charshiya retains this tradition with its numerous woodcarvers, coppersmiths, and leather workshops. We may even have the opportunity to watch one of these artisans at work. There are also plenty of traditional sweet stands to tempt hungry travelers.

Lunch: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Afternoon: We'll next travel via private motorcoach to Arbanassi, a historical village of Bulgarian heritage. Its 80 houses, five churches, and two monasteries reflect the fortress-like architectural style of the 17th and 18th centuries, when the village flourished. Enjoy some free time to explore the town. As you stroll, you may see the sturdy stone walls protecting the homes and gardens within.

Dinner: Tonight, we'll be welcomed into the home of a local Bulgarian family for a Home-Hosted Dinner. We can connect with our hosts over a rustic Bulgarian meal such as kavarma, a traditional slow-cooked stew of meat and vegetables. This is a unique opportunity to witness a slice of authentic life in a small Bulgarian town and ask our hosts any questions we may have.

Evening: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Day 8 Visit the Basarbovo Monastery • Bucharest, Romania

- Destination: Bucharest
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch
- Accommodations: Hotel in Bucharest or similar

Activity Note: Today's drive will be approximately 6 hours in total, with stops along the way.

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: We'll check out of our hotel this morning, say goodbye to Bulgaria, and begin the drive to our first destination in Romania: Bucharest. Though a long drive, it will be scenic—with stretches of road passing through Bulgaria's mountainous countryside.

Along the way, we will stop to witness Basarbovo Monastery, a medieval monastery carved straight into the side of the mountains. Built in the 13th century, it is Bulgaria's only active rock monastery.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: We'll arrive in Bucharest around mid-afternoon. After settling into our rooms, we will join our Trip Experience Leader for a vicinity walk of the area. The balance of the afternoon is on your own; you may wish to rest after the day's journey.

Dinner: On your own. Your Trip Experience Leader can provide suggestions.

Evening: On your own. Perhaps you'll choose to join some of your fellow travelers in the hotel's bar for a night cap.

Day 9 Explore Bucharest • Conversation about the 1989 Romanian Revolution • Optional Ceausescu Palace tour

- Destination: Bucharest
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner
- Accommodations: Hotel in Bucharest

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: After breakfast this morning, we will set off for a guided tour of Bucharest. This is an old city that has served as the capital of Wallachia, and later Romania, since 1659. Today, it is noted for its broad, tree-lined boulevards, well-kept parks, and mix of architectural styles that combine Neoclassical 19th-century structures with monumental 20th-century edifices (the latter built for the most part to satisfy Ceausescu). We'll discover Victory Avenue to Revolution Square, where recent events in history are inscribed.

Upon arrival at the square, we'll get a unique glimpse into the 1989 Romanian Revolution—also known as the Christmas Revolution—when a local will meet up with us to relay his personal experience of the events that ended Communist rule in Romania.

Lunch: On your own.

Afternoon: The rest of the afternoon is on your own to uncover Bucharest at your own pace.

Or, you may choose to join an optional visit to the Ceausescu Palace. Get a glimpse of what life was like near the end of Romania communist rule as we tour Romanian dictator Nicolae Ceausescu's lavish 80-room villa. Also known as The House of Ceausescu and The Spring Palace, the opulence of the dictator's private residence was just one of the many reasons he eventually fell from power—as he squandered his people's money to support his own extravagant lifestyle. While here, we'll also get a chance to sample some sweets that would have been typical during Romania's Communist era.

Dinner: At a local restaurant in Bucharest.

Evening: On your own. You may wish to jot down the day's discoveries in your travel journal, or grab a drink at a nearby bar.

Day 10 Bucharest • Palace of the Parliament

- Destination: Bucharest
- Included Meals: Breakfast
- Accommodations: Hotel in Bucharest or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today we'll take a tour of the Palace of the Parliament, the seat of Romania's national government.

The Palace of the Parliament is the second largest administrative building in the world—and at a weight of around nine billion pounds, the world's heaviest building. Dive into the controversial history of how the massive palace came to be under Ceausescu's rule. After an earthquake devastated the city in 1977, Ceausescu took advantage of the land and recruited 700 architects and around 1.5 million factory workers to complete the project.

Ceausescu passed away before the massive undertaking was finally finished in 1994, but you'll have the opportunity to see the completed building when you drive to the palace for a guided tour of its storied halls. You'll stroll past lavishly decorated hallways, offices, galleries, and conference rooms—originally meant for Communist Party officials, now used by the elected government—and get a sweeping view of Bucharest’s main square from the grand balcony.

Lunch: On your own—as your Trip Experience Leader for suggestions.

Afternoon: The rest of your afternoon is free.

Dinner: On your own in Bucharest.

Evening: Free to spend however you wish.

Day 11 Pitesti Prison visit • Sibiu

- Destination: Sibiu
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner
- Accommodations: Hotel in Sibiu or similar

Activity Note: Today’s drive is approximately 5.5 hours in total, with stops along the way.

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: This morning, we’ll begin our overland transfer to our next destination: The city of Sibiu.

Along the way, we will stop to visit the infamous Pitesti Prison. Between the years of 1949 and 1951, Pitesti Prison carried out a cruel reeducation experiment on its inmates, enforced by the Communist regime. After this sobering visit, we’ll continue on our journey.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: After lunch, our drive to Sibiu will resume. We’ll arrive at our hotel late this afternoon, check in, and embark on an orientation walk with our Trip Experience Leader. As we take in the sights, you may notice some of the sights will be watching us as well. Staring down from the red-tiled roofs of the town’s old buildings are uniquely shaped attic windows that earn Sibiu the name “the city with eyes.” While created simply to ventilate the homes, the windows’ uncanny resemblance to ever-watchful sets of eyes make the buildings seem to come to life.

Dinner: At a local restaurant.

Evening: The evening is on your own.

Day 12 Sibiu • Visit Astra Museum • Controversial Topic: Preserving traditional Roma culture in a modern world

- Destination: Sibiu
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner
- Accommodations: Hotel in Sibiu

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today, we’ll drive to the open-air Astra Museum, stopping along the way to visit the medieval fortified village of Brateiu.

Along the way, we’ll stop to visit a local Roma family and discuss the Controversial Topic of what it’s like preserving the traditional Roma way of life in today’s modern world.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: After lunch, we’ll step back in time as we begin our explorations at the Astra Museum. This immersive, interactive folk museum celebrates the rich history and enduring heritage of Romania. During our visit, you’ll learn about the local culture through exhibits showcasing crafts, music, traditional clothing, and classic Romanian cuisine.

Later, we’ll drive back to our hotel in Sibiu.

Dinner: At a local restaurant.

Evening: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Day 13 Sibiu • Farm house visit

- Destination: Sibiu
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch
- Accommodations: Hotel in Sibiu

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Drive out to the Romanian countryside today for a glimpse of what life is like in the rural village of Sibiel. We'll meet a local family at their farm house and take part in their daily activities.

Lunch: At the farm house.

Afternoon: After lunch, we'll head back to Sibiu where the balance of the day is on your own.

Dinner: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Evening: Free to spend as you wish.

Day 14 Explore Sighisoara • Brasov

- Destination: Brasov
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner
- Accommodations: Hotel in Brasov

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today, we'll check out of our hotel in Sibiu and begin the drive to Brasov.

Along the way, we'll stop to discover Sighisoara by foot. A UNESCO World Heritage-protected town, Sighisoara attracts visitors with its cheerful pastel buildings, fairy-tale medieval towers, and well-preserved merchant houses encircled by fortified walls. But beneath this charming exterior lurks the dark history of Romania's infamous Vlad Țepeș, the 15th-century Wallachian prince whose violent military tactics earned him his better-known monikers of Vlad the Impaler and Dracula. Sighisoara is rumored to be Vlad's birthplace, and those curious to learn more about the inspiration for Bram Stoker's undead villain flock here to visit the house where he was allegedly born.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: Spend some free time in Sighisoara before continuing our journey to Brasov. Upon arrival, we'll check into our hotel before setting off on an orientation walk with our Trip Experience Leader.

Dinner: At a local restaurant.

Evening: On your own in Brasov.

Day 15 Explore Brasov • Optional Vulcan Church tour

- Destination: Brasov
- Included Meals: Breakfast
- Accommodations: Hotel in Brasov

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today we'll set off on a walking tour of the fascinating city of Brasov. Continuously settled since the Bronze Age, the region that is now Brasov has been enriched by people of many heritages—Romans, Saxons, and Hungarians among them—as well as by traders from all over Europe and beyond who arrived to this long-thriving economic center. You'll see some outstanding medieval architecture in Brasov, which is not far from the geographic center of Romania and is the largest city in the Transylvania region.

Along the way, we'll walk through Council Square and visit the famous Black Church, so called due to its smoke-blackened walls resulting from a fire in 1689.

Lunch: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Afternoon: Afterwards, we'll enjoy some free time to continue exploring Brasov at our own pace.

Or, you may choose to join our optional visit to Vulcan Church, a fortified basilica from the 13th century. We'll be treated to a private organ within its medieval walls, followed by free time to explore on your own.

Dinner: On your own in Brasov.

Or, for those on our optional tour, enjoy an included dinner at a local restaurant.

Evening: On your own. Perhaps you'll choose to join some of your fellow travelers in the hotel's bar for a night cap.

Day 16 Brasov • Visit Bran Castle

- Destination: Brasov
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch
- Accommodations: Hotel in Brasov

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today we'll step back into an era of bygone, macabre figures both mythical (Count Dracula) and actual (Vlad the Impaler) when we visit Bran Castle, more famously known as Dracula's Castle.

Prince Vlad Tepes, the son of Vlad Dracul and the person who inspired Bram Stoker's 1897 novel Dracula, used this castle as headquarters for his incursions into Transylvania. This 15th-century ruler became known as "Vlad the Impaler" for his practice of impaling enemies of the kingdom, which was greatly threatened by the Ottoman Turks at the time. Stoker's work of fiction drew inspiration from this bloody practice, the family name, and the castle-dotted mountain landscape of Transylvania.

You'll see the interior and exterior of Bran Castle, which was built in 1377 to protect nearby Brasov from invaders and also served as a customs station. In 1920, the people of Brasov, who owned the castle, offered it as a gift to Queen Maria of Romania, and the castle soon became her favorite residence. After our guided tour, you'll have time for independent exploration.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: Drive back to Brasov, where the balance of the afternoon is on your own.

Dinner: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Evening: On your own. Perhaps you'll head out to a local bar to enjoy a cocktail.

Day 17 Brasov • Visit Peles Castle

• Bucharest

- Destination: Bucharest
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner
- Accommodations: Hotel in Bucharest

Activity Note: In the event Peles Castle is closed, we will instead visit Cantacuzino Castle or Pelisor Castle.

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today we will bid Brasov goodbye as we drive to the city of Sinaia. With its sub-Alpine climate and the protection of surrounding mountains, Sinaia has become known as "the Pearl of the Carpathians"—the favored destination of Romanian royalty and a region rich in palaces, luxury hotels, fine dining, and skiing.

We will discover the city's rich history as we explore Peles Castle, set dramatically in the hills above Sinaia. Completed in 1914 for the first Hohenzollern king of Romania, Carol I, this 160-room palace was built in Neo-Renaissance style and represented the king's attempt to imitate the styles of his former homeland of Germany—creating a Bavarian setting in the mountains of Romania. We'll stroll the castle's gardens and sculptured terraces as we admire the façade of one of the best-preserved royal palaces in Europe.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: After lunch, we'll head to Bucharest as our adventure draws to a close. Upon arrival, we'll check into our hotel upon arrival and settle in. Then take advantage of free time to explore Bucharest on your own.

Dinner: Enjoy a Farewell Dinner at a local restaurant.

Evening: Free to spend however you wish. You may want to prepare for your flight home tomorrow.

Day 18 Return to U.S. or begin post-trip extension

• Included Meals: Breakfast

Breakfast: Served at the hotel, with Romanian and American options available.

Morning: After breakfast, transfer to the airport for your flight home. Or, continue on to our post-trip extension Istanbul: Turkey's Cultural Capital.

END YOUR ADVENTURE WITH AN OPTIONAL POST-TRIP EXTENSION

5 nights in Istanbul: Turkey's Cultural Capital

Day 1 Fly to Istanbul, Turkey

Day 2 Explore Istanbul • Grand Bazaar & Topkapi Palace

Day 3 Visit Hagia Sophia & bull; Explore Taksim Square, Istiklal Street & the old Genoese Quarter

Day 4 Istanbul • Optional Sailing Between Continents tour

Day 5 Discover Balat & Fener

Day 6 Return to U.S.

OPTIONAL TOURS

During your trip you will be able to book optional tours directly with your Trip Experience Leader. He or she will ask you to confirm the payment for these tours by filling out a payment form. Optional tours can only be purchased with a credit or debit card. We accept Visa, MasterCard, and Discover credit cards. We also accept Visa and MasterCard debit cards, but it must be a debit card that allows you to sign for purchases.

In order to correctly process these charges, there can be a delay of 2–3 months from the date of your return for the charges to be posted to your account. Therefore we ask that you use a card that will not expire in the 2–3 months following your return.

Please note: Optional tour prices are listed in U.S. dollar estimates determined at the time of publication and are subject to change. Optional tours may vary.

Ceausescu Palace

(Day 9 $95 per person)

Get a glimpse of what life was like near the end of Romania communist rule as we tour Romanian dictator Nicolae Ceausescu's lavish 80-room villa. Also known as The House of Ceausescu and The Spring Palace, the opulence of the dictator's private residence was just one of the many reasons he eventually fell from power—as he squandered his people's money to support his own extravagant lifestyle.

While here, we'll also get the chance to sample sweets that would have been typical of Romania's Communist era.

Vulcan Church

(Day 15 $115 per person)

Journey to Vulcan Church, a fortified basilica from the 13th century. Here, you'll be treated to a private organ within its medieval walls, followed by free time to explore on your own. This excursion includes dinner at a local restaurant.

Afternoon: Following some free time, we'll gather as a small group later this afternoon for a short Welcome Briefing with your Trip

Experience Leader. You will be joined by travelers who arrived early in Thessaloniki before their pre-trip extension. We'll take a short orientation walk around the hotel's vicinity, including where to find an ATM or local market.

Dinner: On your own. Your Trip Experience Leader is happy to provide suggestions. Perhaps you'll enjoy a gyro, which consists of meat cooked on a vertical rotisserie, wrapped in pita bread, and commonly served alongside tomato, onion, fried potatoes, and tzatziki.

Evening: After dinner, you are free to explore or retire for the night. If you'd like local recommendations, your Trip Experience Leader can provide their top tips.

Day 3 Explore Thessaloniki

- Destination: Thessaloniki
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner
- Accommodations: Mediterranean Palace Hotel

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Set out to discover the Greek port city of Thessaloniki during a walking tour with our Trip Experience Leader and a local guide. Our tour will reveal the city's Roman, Byzantine, and Ottoman roots, and the legacy of a storied and complex past. We'll begin our exploration of Greece's second-largest city in the historic neighborhood of Ano Poli (upper town). As we traverse its cobbled alleyways, we'll have a chance to admire the remaining walls of the Byzantine and Ottoman fortress that once occupied this area. We'll also witness the 14th-century remains of Vlatadon Monastery, a UNESCO World Heritage Site due to its Byzantine beginnings.

Next, we'll make our way north to the Ottoman quarter of town, a former Jewish settlement. Here we'll witness a variety of well-preserved Byzantine monuments before continuing on to the Archaeological Museum of Thessaloniki. Upon arrival, we'll peruse the myriad artifacts on display—ranging from the Prehistoric, Archaic, Classical, Hellenistic, and Roman periods—all of which mostly originated from the city of Thessaloniki but also from the region of Macedonia. A local guide will accompany us throughout the museum, offering commentary and answering any questions you might have.

After our museum visit, our group will head to two local markets, starting with Kapani Market. Located in the heart of the city center since the late 15th century, Kapani contains an array of stores, from fish and meat vendors, to produce stands and spice shops. We'll then explore Modiano, an enclosed market that's home to not only food vendors, but also tavernas (bars) that are popular among locals. We'll have opportunities to sample local fare at both markets before enjoying free time for the rest of the afternoon.

Lunch: On your own. Perhaps you'll seek out a meal at one of the tavernas at Modiano Market. Your Trip Experience Leader can help you decide where to go.

Afternoon: Later this afternoon, we'll head back to the hotel, where we'll have time to relax until dinner. If you'd rather continue exploring, your Trip Experience Leader is able to assist in planning the rest of your day. Maybe you'd like to explore Aristotelous Square, a lively area with shops, restaurants, bars, and hotels that stretch along the waterfront.

Dinner: Our group will reconvene this evening for a Welcome Dinner at a local restaurant.

Evening: Free to explore or rest in your hotel room. Your Trip Experience Leader is always available to provide suggestions.

Day 4 Thessaloniki • Archaeological Site of Pella • Edessa Waterfalls

- Destination: Thessaloniki
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch
- Accommodations: Mediterranean Palace Hotel

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: We'll spend our morning discovering the archaeological site of Pella, which became famous when King Archelaos declared it the capital of Macedonia in the fifth century BC. Upon arrival, we'll enjoy a guided tour of this fourth-century site, which consists of meticulously excavated walls and resurrected columns. With a little imagination—and the help of our expert local guide, we'll begin to see the historic market, shops, and villas come to life before our very eyes. After our tour, we'll enter the on-site museum, which houses texts, coins, inscriptions, sculptures, vases, mosaics, and more. This collection of artifacts will further our understanding of daily life in this ancient city.

Later, we'll depart for Edessa Waterfalls. Upon arrival, we'll first have lunch before exploring the falls.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: Depart for Edessa Waterfalls. These twelve natural falls were created by seismic activity dating back to the 14th century. During our time here, we'll have a chance to explore the area around the falls, and you can even walk behind the biggest fall—Karanos—where you'll have an idyllic view behind the 229-foot-tall water curtain.

Then, we'll head back to the city of Edessa, where we'll have free time to explore before returning to Thessaloniki. Maybe you'll head to the seventh-century Church of Agios Dimitorios, which honors Thessaloniki's patron saint—in fact, his remains are interred in the crypt beneath the church.

Dinner: On your own. Your Trip Experience Leader can provide suggestions. You might want to try souvlaki (which literally translates to “skewer”), a Greek fast food of meat or vegetables cooked on a skewer and often paired with pita bread, sauces, and other toppings.

Evening: Free to explore on your own or rest for the evening. Your Trip Experience Leader can provide ideas.

Day 5 Thessaloniki • Royal Tombs of Aigai • Mount Olympus

- Destination: Thessaloniki
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch
- Accommodations: Mediterranean Palace Hotel

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: This morning we'll depart for the town of Vergina, located almost 50 miles west of Thessaloniki. Here, we'll descend into the museum of Aigai, which houses royal Macedonian tombs dating back to the time of Alexander the Great and his father, Philip II. The crown jewel of the museum is the 336-BC tomb of Philip II, adorned with ivory, silver, and gold treasures. Surprisingly, the tomb was never raided throughout the millennia—and in fact, everything is on display in its original form.

Next, we'll depart for the town of Litochoro, nestled at the base of Mount Olympus.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: After lunch, we'll drive to the nature information center of Mount Olympus, where we'll begin a guided tour of this awe-inspiring area. Greece's highest mountain, Olympus is considered the home of the Greek gods in Greek mythology. Today, it's a popular hiking area for locals and tourists alike. As we explore, we'll learn about the diverse animal populations and plant species endemic to the area.

Following our tour, we'll embark on a hike to Enipeas, the river that crosses the flanks of Mount Olympus and serves as a water source for the countless pools and falls that lead back down to Litochoro. Throughout our hike, we'll enjoy breathtaking views of the mountain.

Later, head back to Thessaloniki, where you'll have free time to explore. You might wish to take a private boat ride around the Thermaic Gulf. Your Trip Experience Leader can help you plan this activity, if you wish.

Dinner: On your own. Check with your Trip Experience Leader for ideas.

Evening: You're free to relax at the hotel or continue exploring. Perhaps you'll have a drink at a local taverna.

Day 6 Thessaloniki • Optional Kerkini Lake tour

- Destination: Thessaloniki
- Included Meals: Breakfast
- Accommodations: Mediterranean Palace Hotel

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Today is free to explore on your own, or join our optional tour to Kerkini Lake. Those travelers who wish to stay in Thessaloniki might like to stroll along the promenade or visit one of the popular museums at the harbor.

Travelers who join the optional tour to Kerkini Lake will depart this morning for a scenic drive to one of Greece's most biodiverse wetland ecosystems. Home to over 300 bird and animal species, this national park offers a spectacular respite from the city, as well as unparalleled views of Mount Beles and the surrounding Serres Valley. This is truly a birder's paradise—so, be sure to pack your binoculars! You'll also enjoy wildlife viewing during a boat ride on the lake itself.

Lunch: On your own for those who remain in Thessaloniki. Your Trip Experience Leader can provide suggestions. Travelers on the optional tour will enjoy an included lunch at a local restaurant. This area is famous for its buffalo meat and fish from Kerkini Lake.

Afternoon: Free to explore for travelers in Thessaloniki. Your Trip Experience Leader can help you plan your afternoon.

Travelers on the optional tour will have some free time to explore Kerkini Lake before returning to Thessaloniki. The rest of the day is free for you to do as you wish.

Dinner: On your own. Your Trip Experience Leader can provide suggestions.

Evening: Free to explore on your own. For your last evening in Thessaloniki, you might like to gather with your group and toast to the discoveries you made this week.

Day 7 Transfer to Sofia, Bulgaria • Join main trip

- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Begin your transfer overland to Sofia, Bulgaria.

Lunch: At a local restaurant en route.

Afternoon: Finish driving to Sofia. Upon arrival, check in to your hotel and meet the rest of your group to begin your Eastern Balkan Experience: Bulgaria & Romania adventure.

OPTIONAL TOUR

Kerkini Lake

(Day 6 $295 per person)

Depart this morning for a scenic drive to one of Greece's most biodiverse wetland ecosystems, Kerkini Lake. Home to over 300 bird and animal species, this national park offers a spectacular respite from the city, as well as unparalleled views of Mount Beles and the surrounding Serres Valley. This is truly a birder's paradise—so, be sure to pack your binoculars! You'll also enjoy wildlife viewing during a boat ride on the lake itself. After your tour, you'll enjoy an included lunch in the nearby town, which is famous for its buffalo meat and fish from the lake.

Istanbul: Turkey's Cultural Capital

INCLUDED IN YOUR PRICE

- » 5 nights accommodation
- » 9 meals—5 breakfasts, 1 lunches, and 3 dinners
- » 5 small group activities
- » Services of a local O.A.T. Trip Experience Leader
- » Gratuities for local guides, drivers, and luggage porters
- » All transfers

POST-TRIP EXTENSION ITINERARY

Add another stamp to your passport and discover Istanbul, the metropolis that straddles two continents. You'll visit UNESCO World Heritage Sites including the Hagia Sophia mosque and Topkapi Palace, tap into the pulse of modern life in the city as you explore the bustling Grand Bazaar and upscale Istiklal Avenue, and connect with local people in the historic, lesser-traveled neighborhoods of Balat and Fener.

Day 1 Fly to Istanbul, Turkey

- Destination: Istanbul
- Accommodations: The Galata Istanbul Hotel - MGallery or similar

Afternoon: We'll arrive in Istanbul this afternoon and transfer to our hotel. The balance of the day is yours to settle in or begin exploring independently.

Dinner: On your own. Your Trip Experience Leader would be happy to recommend options.

Evening: Continue pursuing your own interests in Istanbul.

Day 2 Explore Istanbul • Grand Bazaar & Topkapi Palace

- Destination: Istanbul
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner
- Accommodations: The Galata Istanbul Hotel - MGallery or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Following a Welcome Briefing at our hotel, we'll set off on a full day of explorations in Istanbul, the historic city formerly known as Byzantium and Constantinople. Due to its strategic location astride both Asia and Europe, Istanbul served as the capital of a series of empires since its founding back in the seventh century BC, and today boasts myriad treasures from its incredible history.

Our first stop is the Hippodrome of Constantinople, a lively central square that was the social heart of the city during the Byzantine era. We'll witness the square's defining features—two soaring obelisks—before continuing on to the Grand Bazaar. Home to more than 4,000 shops, this remarkable complex dates back more than 550 years.

Lunch: On your own. Grab a bite around the Grand Bazaar or walk to the main street of Old Town for a variety of food stands and restaurants.

Afternoon: Our next stop is Topkapi Palace. The complex of grand pavilions and courtyards was built by Mehmet II in the middle of the 15th century (just after his conquest of Constantinople) and served as the residence of Ottoman sultans—along with their wives and concubines—for the next 400 years. Today, it is one of the world’s richest museums, and we’ll witness a staggering collection of arms, porcelain, and priceless treasures that include the jewel-studded dagger made famous by the Hollywood heist film, Topkapi. After our visit, you’re free to return to the hotel with the group, or remain in the historic center to explore on your own. Perhaps you’d like to visit the Archaeological Museum, showcasing over a million artifacts from the Balkans, to Africa, and Afghanistan.

Dinner: Enjoy a Welcome Dinner at a local restaurant.

Evening: On your own. Perhaps you’ll venture out to one of the city’s popular rooftop nightspots, where you can enjoy a drink and striking views of the city.

Day 3 Visit Hagia Sophia & bull; Explore Taksim Square, Istiklal Street & the old Genoese Quarter

- Destination: Istanbul
- Included Meals: Breakfast
- Accommodations: The Galata Istanbul Hotel
– MGallery or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Our city tour of Istanbul begins at Hagia Sophia—a true wonder of the Byzantine world. Completed under Emperor Justinian in AD 537, this massive building (known best for its resplendent dome) was a Christian church for nearly 1,000 years, until Mehmet the Conqueror claimed it for Islam. Kemal Atatürk, the revolutionary leader and founder of the Republic, proclaimed it as a museum in 1934—but it reverted back to a working mosque in 2020. Its interior was designed as an earthly mirror of heaven, and as we explore, our Trip Experience Leader will point out the stunning Byzantine mosaics and distinctive features that contributed to the success of this estimable goal.

Next, we’ll board our private motorcoach and make for Taksim Square in the bustling city center, where we’ll disembark and make our way to Istiklal Street. The beating heart of the city, Istiklal Street stretches from Taksim Square almost all the way to the landmark Gala Tower. This is where Istanbul locals from all walks of life come to work, eat, play, and shop. And while the three million people who traverse Istiklal each day can make the street rather crowded, there is nowhere better to get a slice-of-life look at modern Istanbul society.

Lunch: On your own. Istiklal Street is a great place to sample Turkish street food—your Trip Experience Leader can help you select the best vendors to get a taste of local flavors.

Afternoon: We’ll reconvene after lunch for a guided stroll through Galata, the old Genoese quarter. As we walk, we’ll witness the colorful shops and wealth of Art Nouveau and Ottoman-era buildings that line this route. As we make our way back to our hotel late this afternoon, we’ll make one final stop at Misir Carsisi, the Spice Bazaar—one of the largest bazaars in the city. Travelers who wish to participate can join our Trip Experience Leader on a walk through its bustling stalls. Otherwise, you'll remain on the bus and return to the hotel.

Dinner: On your own. Perhaps you'll ask your Trip Experience Leader where to find the best manti in town. This stuffed dumpling dish traditionally features a filling of ground meat and onion, served with yogurt and tomato sauce—but Istanbul has seen a rise in new filling options, among them fish or vegetables.

Evening: The evening is free for your own discoveries.

Day 4 Istanbul • Optional Sailing Between Continents tour

- Destination: Istanbul
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Dinner
- Accommodations: The Galata Istanbul Hotel - MGallery or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: You're free to spend the day exploring Istanbul independently. Or, join a full-day optional Sailing Between Continents tour.

First, visit the extraordinary Dolmabahce Palace, built in the mid-19th century by order of Sultan Abdul Mecit I. The Sultan's architect was given the order that this building should "surpass the palace of any potentate anywhere in the world." You can decide for yourself if he succeeded. The façade of the palace stretches for more than 1,200 feet on the European shores of the Bosphorus, behind which lies its vast reception salon, with 56 columns and a huge crystal chandelier (weighing four and a half tons and lit by 750 lights).

Next, we'll cruise across the Bosphorus Strait by ferry to Kadikoy, an ancient city on the Asian side of Istanbul, where we'll have lunch.

Lunch: Travelers who opted to explore independently today will enjoy lunch on their own. If you chose to join us on the optional tour, you'll enjoy lunch at a local restaurant.

Afternoon: Continue your independent explorations of Istanbul after lunch. Travelers on the optional tour will take a stroll through Kadikoy's market before making their way to Istanbul's Old Town by public boat and then returning to the hotel.

Dinner: At a local restaurant.

Evening: On your own—ask your Trip Experience Leader for recommendations.

Day 5 Discover Balat & Fener

- Destination: Istanbul
- Included Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner
- Accommodations: The Galata Istanbul Hotel - MGallery or similar

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: We'll discover Istanbul's lesser-known gems today, beginning with a visit to St. Chora. Once a medieval Greek Orthodox church, St. Chora is now used by practitioners of the Islamic faith, and is better known as the Kariye Mosque. From there, we'll continue on to Balat, one of the oldest neighborhoods of the city. Traditionally, Balat was Istanbul's Jewish Quarter, until an earthquake in the 19th century displaced much of the population. Today's Balat is a multicultural neighborhood where churches, synagogues, and mosques stand side-by-side along the cobblestone streets next to brilliantly-painted wooden houses.

Modern Balat is undergoing a facelift as some of its older and more neglected buildings are making way for trendy restaurants, shops, and art galleries, giving the neighborhood an eclectic ambiance where old and new coexist.

We'll also visit nearby Fener, home to a thriving Greek population. As these districts are relatively undiscovered by tourists, we'll enjoy more opportunities for people-to-people interactions as our Trip Experience Leader helps us connect with these historic neighborhoods' warm, welcoming residents.

Lunch: At a local restaurant.

Afternoon: We'll return to our hotel after lunch, where we'll have a final free afternoon to make any last-minute discoveries, or to prepare for tomorrow's departure.

Dinner: We'll celebrate the discoveries we've made in Turkey during a Farewell Dinner at a local restaurant.

Evening: The rest of the evening is free to relax or explore independently.

Day 6 Return to U.S.

Breakfast: At the hotel.

Morning: Make your way to the airport after breakfast to begin your journey home.

OPTIONAL TOUR

Sailing Between Continents

(Day 4 $195 per person)

Join an optional tour that cruises between two continents—Asia and Europe. Your tour begins with a visit to the 19th-century Dolmabahce Palace, built by order of Sultan Abdul Mecit I. The Sultan's architect was given the order that this building should "surpass the palace of any potentate anywhere in the world." After marveling at its 1,200-foot facade and vast reception salon, you'll cross over the Bosphorus Strait by ferry to Kadikoy, a lively district in Istanbul's Asian half. After exploring the local markets and enjoying an included seafood lunch, you'll return to the European side of the Bosphorus.

TRAVEL DOCUMENTS & ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Your Passport

- Must be in good condition
- Must be valid for at least 6 months after your scheduled return to the U.S.
- Must have the required number of blank pages (details below)
- The blank pages must be labeled “Visas” at the top. Pages labeled “Amendments and Endorsements” are not acceptable

Need to Renew Your Passport?

Contact the National Passport Information Center (NPIC) at 1-877-487-2778, or visit the U.S. Department of State’s official website at www.travel.state.gov for information on obtaining a new passport or renewing your existing passport. The U.S. Department of State allows for passport renewal by mail or, for applicable citizens, renewal online. We advise you review the process and requirements for online passport renewal on the official website.

You may also contact our recommended visa service company, PVS International, at 1-800-556-9990 for help with your passport.

Recommended Blank Pages

Please confirm that your passport has enough blank pages for this adventure.

- Main trip only: You will need 2 blank passport pages.
- Pre-trip to Greece: No additional passport pages are needed for this extension.
- Post-trip to Turkey: You will need an additional blank page, for a total of 3 passport pages.

No Visas Required

We’ll be sending you information with detailed instructions about 100 days prior to your departure. In the meantime, we’re providing the information below as a guideline on what to expect. This info is for U.S. citizens only. All visas and fees are subject to change.

- Europe (Romania, Bulgaria): Starting in 2025, U.S. citizens will be required to fill out an online European Travel Information and Authorization System (ETIAS) visa-waiver to enter countries in the European Union. There is no confirmed start date for the ETIAS at the time of printing. The ETIAS will be valid for 3 years.
- Turkey: No Visa required.

Traveling Without a U.S. Passport?

If you are not a U.S. citizen, or if your passport is from any country other than the U.S., it is your responsibility to check with your local consulate, embassy, or a visa services company about visa requirements. We recommend the services of PVS International, a national visa service located in Washington D.C.; they can be reached at 1-800-556-9990 or www.pvsinternational.org.

Traveling With a Minor?

Some governments may require certain documentation for minors to enter and depart the country or to obtain a visa (if applicable). For further detail on the required documentation, please contact your local embassy or consulate.

Emergency Photocopies of Key Documents

We recommend you carry color photocopies of key documents including the photo page of your passport plus any applicable visas, air itinerary, credit cards (front and back), and an alternative form of ID. Add emergency phone numbers like your credit card company and the number for your travel protection plan. Store copies separate from the originals.

If you plan to email this information to yourself, please keep in mind that email is not always secure; consider using password protection or encryption. Also email is not always available worldwide. As an alternative, you could load these documents onto a flash drive instead, which can do double-duty as a place to backup photos during your trip.

Overseas Taxes & Fees

This tour may have taxes and fees that cannot be included in your airline ticket price because you are required to pay them in person onsite. All taxes are subject to change without notice and can be paid in cash (either U.S. or local currency). If applicable, you will receive a list of these fees with your Final Documents.

RIGORS, VACCINES & GENERAL HEALTH

Is This Adventure Right for You?

Please review the information below prior to departing on this adventure. We reserve the right for our Trip Experience Leaders to modify participation, or in some circumstances send travelers home, if their condition would adversely affect the health, safety, or enjoyment of themselves or of other travelers.

PACING

- 6 locations in 18 days
- Return flights often require departing in early morning
- Air travel time will be 11-20 hours and will have at least one connection

PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS

- Not appropriate for travelers using wheelchairs, walkers, or other mobility aids
- You must be able to walk 5-6 miles unassisted and participate in 4-6 hours of physical activities each day
- You must be able to climb 200 steps at Parliament
- Agility and balance are required for embarking inflatable rafts
- We reserve the right for Trip Experience Leaders to restrict participation, or in some circumstances send travelers home, if their limitations impact the group's experience
- You may encounter animals on this trip. We make every effort to keep these encounters safe, however animals may behave unpredictably or dangerously at times. Please use caution when interacting with animals on this trip: Keep a safe distance, stay alert, and respect the animals

CLIMATE

- Daytime temperatures range from 58-82°F during cruising season
- June-August are the warmest months; July and August can reach highs of 100°F
- March and November weather can be unpredictable and change quickly

TERRAIN & TRANSPORTATION

- Uneven walking surfaces, including steep paths, hills, and cobblestones, which can be slippery in wet or colder conditions
- Travel by 30-passenger coach
- Two drives of 3 to 5 hours each

ACCOMMODATIONS & FACILITIES

- Hotel rooms are smaller than those in the U.S. and offer basic amenities
- All accommodations feature private baths

Steps to Take Before Your Trip

Before you leave on this adventure, we recommend the following:

- Check with the CDC for their recommendations for the countries you'll be visiting. You can contact them online at www.cdc.gov/travel or by phone at 1-800-232-4636.
- Have a medical checkup with your doctor at least 6 weeks before your trip.
- Pick up any necessary medications, both prescription and over-the-counter.
- Have a dental and/or eye checkup. (Recommended, but less urgent)

No Vaccines Required

Recommended Vaccines

At the time of writing there were no required vaccines for this trip. The CDC recommends that all travelers be up to date on their routine vaccinations and on basic travel vaccines like Hepatitis A and Typhoid, but these are suggestions only. However, this could change in future so we encourage you to check with the CDC yourself before meeting with your doctor.

Medication Suggestions

- An antibiotic medication for gastrointestinal illness

Traveling with Medications

- Pack medications in your carry-on bag to avoid loss and to have them handy.
- Keep medicines in their original, labeled containers for a quicker security screen at the airport and a better experience if you get stopped by customs while overseas.
- Bring copies of your prescriptions, written using the generic drug name rather than a brand name to be prepared for any unforeseen loss of your medications.

We recommend checking with the State Department for medication restrictions by country: travel.state.gov (Go to "Find International Travel Information", select "Country Information", then enter the country into the search bar; if you don't see any medications specifically mentioned under the "Health" section, then you can presume major U.S. brands should be OK).

Staying Healthy on Your Trip

Jet Lag Tips

- Start your trip well-rested.

- Begin a gradual transition to your new time zone before you leave or switch to your destination time zone when you get on the plane.
- Attempt to sleep and eat according to the new schedule.
- Avoid heavy eating and drinking caffeine or alcoholic beverages right before—and during—your flight.
- Drink plenty of water and/or fruit juice while flying
- Stretch your legs, neck, and back periodically while seated on the plane.
- After arrival, avoid the temptation to nap.
- Don't push yourself to see a lot on your first day.
- Try to stay awake your first day until after dinner.

Allergies

If you have any serious allergies or dietary restrictions, we advise you to notify us at least 30 days prior to your departure. Please call our Travel Counselors at 1-800-221-0814, and we will communicate them to our regional office. Every effort will be made to accommodate you.

Water

- Tap water in the region is safe to drink, but is processed differently than in the U.S. so it can still upset your stomach or feel “heavy”. Therefore, you might want to drink bottled water instead.
- Bottled water is readily available for purchase and is relatively inexpensive. (Bottled water is not included in the price of your tour.)
- Inspect each bottle before you buy it to make sure the cap is sealed properly.
- When in doubt about the water, salads, or ice, just ask the restaurant or your Trip Experience Leader.
- It is OK to brush your teeth with tap water.

Food

- We've carefully chosen the restaurants for your group meals. Your Trip Experience Leader can suggest restaurants for the meal you take on your own.
- Be very careful with food sold from vendors on the street, and with uncooked foods.

MONEY MATTERS: LOCAL CURRENCY & TIPPING GUIDELINES

Top Three Tips

- Carry a mix of different types of payments, such as local currency, an ATM card, and a credit card.
- Traveler’s checks are not accepted in the countries on this itinerary.
- You will not be able to pay with U.S. dollars on this trip; you will need local currency instead.

Local Currency

For current exchange rates, please refer to an online converter tool like www.xe.com/currencyconverter, your bank, or the financial section of your newspaper.

Euro Countries: European Euro (€)

Bulgaria: Bulgarian Lev (ЛВ.)

Romania: Romanian leu (lei)

Turkey: Turkish lira (TL)

How to Exchange Money

If you want to exchange money before your trip, you can usually do so through your bank or at an exchange office. Your departure airport in the U.S., a travel agent, or an AAA office are also possible outlets. Or you can wait and change money on the trip instead—but it might be helpful to arrive with some local currency in case you run into a bank holiday or an “out of order” ATM.

On your trip, the easiest way is to withdraw funds from a local ATM. The ATM will give you local money and your bank at home will convert that into U.S. dollars.

You can also exchange cash at some hotels, large post offices, and money exchange offices. To exchange cash, you’ll usually need your passport and bills in good condition (not worn, torn, or dirty). New bills (post 2014) are best.

Please note that many banks in Europe will only exchange money for their own customers. Never exchange money on the street. All exchange methods involve fees, which may be built into the conversion rate; ask beforehand.

ATMs

When using the ATM, keep in mind that it may only accept cards from local banks, and may not allow cash advances on credit cards; you might need to try more than one ATM or more than one card.

Many banks charge a fee of $1-$10 each time you use a foreign ATM. Others may charge you a percentage of the amount you withdraw. We recommend that you check with your bank before you depart.

Lastly, don't forget to memorize the actual digits of your card's PIN number (many keypads at foreign ATMs do not include letters on their keys—they only display numbers.)

In most countries, ATMs are widely available in major cities. If you are in a rural location, it will likely be harder to find an ATM.

Bulgaria: International ATM networks are available throughout large cities and small towns.

Romania: ATMs are common throughout large cities and small towns in Romania.

Turkey: ATMs are common throughout large cities and small towns in Turkey.

Greece: ATMs are common throughout Greece.

Credit & Debit Cards

While traveling, most countries and major cities will accept credit cards. Even if you don't plan on using a credit card during your trip, we still suggest that you bring one or two as a backup, especially if you are planning a large purchase (artwork, jewelry). We also suggest that you bring more than one brand of card (i.e. Visa, MasterCard, American Express) if possible, because not every shop will take every card. For example, although Discover and American Express cards are accepted in some countries outside the U.S., they are not widely adopted, so other brands will work at a much larger range of stores, restaurants, etc.

If you are visiting a country that does not commonly accept credit cards, they will be listed below.

Bulgaria: Credit and debit card use is common in Bulgaria and major American credit cards are widely accepted.

Romania: Credit and debit card use is common in Romania.

Turkey: Credit cards are widely accepted in Turkey, but street vendors and small shops may require cash.

Greece: Credit cards are widely accepted in Greece, but street vendors will require cash. Some small shops and restaurants may also require cash so it is always good to ask before making a purchase.

Chip Cards

Many countries have adopted credit cards that have an embedded computer chip. These cards are inserted into the reader instead of swiped. The card owner then authorizes the purchase using a PIN instead of signing.

Though this technology is common in the U.S., occasionally there are machines in other countries that can't read U.S. cards or the machine can read the card, but asks for a PIN. This doesn't happen often, and is nothing to worry about. You can usually resolve the situation by asking the cashier to let you sign. (If you don't speak the language, just mime signing on your hand.) If you are not able to sign for a purchase, such as at an automated ticket booth, you can use another form of payment, such as a debit card that has a PIN.

Notify Card Providers of Upcoming Travel

Many credit card companies and banks have fraud alert departments that will freeze your card if they see suspicious charges—such as charges or withdrawals from another country. To avoid an accidental security block, it is a good idea to notify your credit card company and/or bank you will be using your cards abroad. You can do this by calling their customer service number a week or two before your departure. Some banks or credit card companies will also let you do this online.

You should also double-check what phone number you could call if you have a problem with a card while you are abroad. Don't assume you can use the 1-800 number printed on the back of your card—most 1 800 numbers don't work outside of the U.S.!

Tipping Guidelines

Of course, whether you tip, and how much, is always at your own discretion. But for those of you who have asked for tipping suggestions, we offer these guidelines:

- O.A.T. Trip Experience Leader: It is customary to express a personal “thank you” to your Trip Experience Leader at the end of your trip. As a guideline, many travelers give $10–$14 USD (or equivalent in local currency) per person for each day their Trip Experience Leader is with them. Please note that these tips can only be in cash. If you are taking any of the optional extensions, your Trip Experience Leader during the extension(s) may not be the same as the one on your main trip.
- Housekeeping staff at hotels: $1–2 per room, per night
- Waiters: When dining as a group, your tip is included—there is no need for you to leave an additional tip. When dining on your own, you can simply round up the bill. Or if you want to leave a really nice tip for excellent service 5–10% of the check is enough.
- Taxi drivers: Tipping is not customary, but many locals will round up the fare and let the driver keep the change.

Please Note: Your tour price includes gratuities on the main trip and optional extensions for local guides, drivers, and luggage porters that may assist you during the scheduled activities on your adventure. All tips are quoted in U.S. dollars; tips can be converted and paid in local currency or in U.S. dollars. Please do not use personal or traveler's checks for tips.

AIR, OPTIONAL TOURS & STAYING IN TOUCH

Land Only Travelers & Personalized Air

Quick Definitions

- Land Only: You will be booking your own international flights. Airport transfers are not included.
- Air-Inclusive: You booked international air with us. Airport transfers are included as long as you didn't customize your trip's dates (see next bullet).
- Arrive Early or Stopover (select adventures only): If you chose one of these Personalization options and purchased air through O.A.T, accommodations and airport transfers are included. However, if you chose one of our Personalization options, but did not purchase air through O.A.T., accommodations are included, but airport transfers are not. If you chose one of our Personalization options, and purchase air through O.A.T. but not the accommodations, the airport transfers are not included. We have included transfer options below.
- Personalization on Your Own: If you have not purchased air through O.A.T. and decided to arrive early, stay longer, or stop in a connecting city on your own, you are responsible for airport transfers and accommodations. For your convenience, a preliminary list of your included hotels is available on your My Planner at www.oattravel.com/myplanner under "My Reservations" to help you with selecting a hotel for your additional time.

Air Inclusive Travelers

If you have purchased international air with us, there are some points that may be helpful for you to know.

- U.S. Departure: If you are among a group of ten or more travelers who depart the U.S. from your international gateway city, it is our goal to have an O.A.T. Representative assist you at the U.S. airport with the check-in of your flight. Unless there are extenuating circumstances beyond our control, the Representative will be at the check-in counter three hours before your departure time. If you are flying domestically before your international flight, the representative will be stationed at the check-in counter for your departing international flight, not at the domestic arrival gate.
- U.S. Return: If you are among a group of ten or more travelers who return to the same U.S. gateway city, an O.A.T. Representative will meet you as you exit Customs and help you find taxis, buses, hotel accommodations, or connecting flights. Again, it is our goal to have our Representative waiting to assist your group. In rare instances, unforeseen circumstances may prevent this service.

- Flying with a Travel Companion: If you're traveling with a companion from a different household, and both of you are beginning and ending your trip at the same airport on the same dates, let us know you'd like to travel together and we'll make every effort to arrange this (please note, however, that this is not always possible). If you request any changes to your flights, please be sure that both you and your companion tell us that you still want to fly together.
- Selecting Your Seats: If your airline allows pre-assigned seats, you will be able to select and view them directly from the airline's website after booking. Some airlines will not allow seat confirmation until your reservation is ticketed 45-30 days prior to departure, and/or they may charge a nominal fee. You may locate your itinerary on an airline's website utilizing the Record Locator Number found on the Air Itinerary in your My Planner.

Airport Transfers Can Be Purchased

For eligible flights, airport transfers may be purchased separately as an optional add-on, subject to availability. To be eligible, your flight(s) must meet the following requirements:

- You must fly into or fly home from the same airport as O.A.T. travelers who purchased included airfare.
- Your flight(s) must arrive/depart on the same day that the group arrives or departs.
- If you are arriving early, you must have arranged the hotels through our Arrive Early personalization option

Airport transfers can be purchased up to 45 days prior to your departure; they are not available for purchase onsite. To learn more, or purchase airport transfers, please call our Travel Counselors at 1-800-221-0814.

If you don't meet the requirements above, you'll need to make your own transfer arrangements. We suggest the Rome to Rio website as a handy resource: www.rome2rio.com

Optional Tours

Optional tours are additional add-on tours that allow you to personalize your adventure by tailoring it to your tastes and needs. And if you decide not to join an optional tour? Then you'll have free time to relax or explore on your own—it's about options, not obligations.

What You Need to Know

- All optional tours are subject to change and availability.
- Optional tours that are reserved with your Trip Experience Leader can be paid for using credit/debit cards only. We accept MasterCard, Visa, and Discover credit cards; we can also take MasterCard or Visa debit cards as long as the card allows you to sign for purchases. (You won't be able to enter a PIN.)

- To ensure that you are charged in U.S. dollars, your payment will be processed by our U.S. headquarters in Boston. This process can take up to three months, so we ask that you only use a card that will still be valid three months after your trip is over. The charge may appear on your credit card statement as being from Boston, MA or may be labeled as “OPT Boston”.
- Your Trip Experience Leader will give you details on the optional tours while you’re on the trip. But if you’d like to look over descriptions of them earlier, you can do so at any time by referring to your Day-to-Day Itinerary (available online by signing into My Planner at www.oattravel.com/myplanner).

Communicating with Home from Abroad

Cell Phones

If you want to use your cell phone on the trip, check with your phone provider to see if your phone and service will work outside of the U.S. It may turn out to be cheaper to rent an international phone or buy a SIM card onsite. If you want to use a local SIM, just make certain your phone can accept one.

Calling Apps

Another option is to use a smartphone app like Skype or FaceTime. These services are usually less expensive than making a traditional call, but you’ll need a Wi-Fi connection and the calls may count towards your phone plan’s data allowance. Many smartphones—and some tablets or laptops—come with one of these apps pre-installed or you can download them for free from the appropriate apps store.

Calling Cards and 1-800 Numbers

When calling the U.S. from a foreign country, a prepaid calling card can be useful because it circumvents unexpected charges from the hotel. Calling cards purchased locally are typically the best (less expensive, more likely to work with the local phones, etc.).

One reminder: Do not call U.S. 1-800 numbers outside the continental United States. This can result in costly long distance fees, since 1-800 numbers do not work outside the country.

Internet

Most hotels in Eastern Europe will have Internet services available, some for free, some for an hourly charge. WiFi service is fairly common, but may be limited to a public area, like the lobby. If you’d like to use WiFi when and where it is available, you’ll need to bring your own device. Or you could chose to rely on hotel computers instead—many hotels will also offer a limited number of computers in the lobby or business center for guests to use.

How to Call Overseas

When calling overseas from the U.S., dial 011 for international exchange, then the country code (indicated by a plus sign: +), and then the number. Note that foreign phone numbers may not have the same number of digits as U.S. numbers; even within a country the number of digits can vary depending on the city and if the phone is a land line or cell phone.

PACKING: WHAT TO BRING & LUGGAGE LIMITS

Luggage Limits

MAIN TRIP LIMITS
Pieces per person	One checked bag and one carry-on per person.
Weight restrictions	Varies by airline. The current standard is 50 lbs for checked bags and 15 lbs for carry-ons .
Size Restrictions	Varies by airline. Measured in linear inches (length+width+depth). Generally, 62 linear inches is the checked bag limit; carry-on limit is 45 linear inches .
Luggage Type	Duffel bag or soft-sided suitcase. Please do not bring a hard-sided (clamshell) suitcase.
TRIP EXTENSION(S) LIMITS
Same as the main trip.
REMARKS/SUGGESTIONS
Luggage rules: Luggage rules and limits are set by governmental and airline policy. Enforcement of the rules may include spot checks or may be inconsistent. However one thing is the same across the board: If you are found to have oversized or overweight luggage, you will be subject to additional fees, to be assessed by—and paid to—the airline in question.

Don't Forget:

- These luggage limits may change. If the airline(s) notify us of any changes, we will include an update in your Final Documents booklet.
- It's a good idea to reconfirm baggage restrictions and fees directly with the airline a week or so prior to departure. For your convenience, we maintain a list of the toll-free numbers for the most common airlines on our website in the FAQ section.
- Baggage fees are not included in your trip price; they are payable directly to the airlines.

Your Luggage

- Checked Luggage: One duffel bag or soft-sided suitcase. Look for one with heavy nylon fabric, wrap-around handles, built-in wheels, and a heavy duty lockable zipper. Please do not bring a rigid (plastic shell) suitcase.
- Carry-on Bag: You are allowed one carry-on bag per person. We suggest a tote or small backpack that can be used as both a carry-on bag for your flight and to carry your daily necessities—water bottle, camera, etc—during your daily activities.
- Locks: For flights that originate in the U.S., you can either use a TSA-approved lock or leave your luggage unlocked. Outside of the U.S. we strongly recommend locking your luggage as a theft-prevention measure.

Clothing Suggestions: Functional Tips

As you will experience a wide range of temperatures and weather conditions, we suggest several layers of clothing. If you like to hand-wash your clothes, look for fabrics that will dry out overnight. You can buy clothing designed especially for travel, with features like wrinkle-resistant fabric or built-in sun protection.

- Footwear: Comfortable, supportive walking shoes are essential. You'll be on your feet a lot during the trip, and walking over some rough and slippery surfaces. The soles of your shoes should offer good traction.
- Light rain gear is recommended. Regardless of when you travel, rainfall is a possibility. While it may not rain on your trip, we suggest you bring a waterproof shell or coat, preferably with a hood. This might be a better choice than a folding umbrella, which is usually less effective in wind. (Plus it can be tricky to try to hold onto an umbrella and take photos at the same time.)
- Layers are key. We suggest wearing layers, so you can adjust to warmer and cooler conditions as needed.

Style Hints

- Dress on our trip is functional and casual. You might want to bring one slightly dressier outfit for dining on your own at nicer restaurants or for the Farewell Dinner, but that is completely up to you.

Suggested Packing Lists

We have included suggestions from Trip Experience Leaders and former travelers to help you pack. These packing lists are only jumping-off points—they offer recommendations based on experience, but not requirements. We recommend using www.weather.com and consulting the “Climate” chapter of this handbook.

And don't forget a reusable water bottle—you'll need it to take advantage of any refills we offer as we are working to eliminate single-use plastic bottles on all of our trips.

Recommended Clothing

- Shirts: A mixture of short and long-sleeved shirts.
- Trousers and/or jeans.
- Shoes and socks: Shoes should be comfortable walking/ running shoes or low-cut hiking shoes, with arch support. Bring at least a couple pairs of medium- to heavy-weight socks for long walks.
- Underwear and sleepwear
- Light rain jacket/windbreaker with hood
- Wide-brim sun hat
- Swimsuit for hotel pools or saunas

Seasonal Clothing Recommendations

For summer departures (June- August):

- Although high temperatures tend to be in the high 70s, temperatures can easily spike into the 80s and 90s. A few shorts and some lightweight tops will help you cope with an unexpected heat wave.
- Despite the potential for higher temperatures, you'll also want at least one piece to layer—a light sweater, a vest, or jacket—in case it gets cool at night or in case you are somewhere where the air conditioning is chilly.

For spring and fall departures (April, May, September, October):

- Light sweater and/or a warm jacket
- Gloves and a scarf

For winter departures (January- March, November, December):

- Winter coat, hat, warm gloves, scarf, and long underwear

Essential Items

- Daily essentials: toothbrush, toothpaste, floss, hairbrush or comb, shaving items, deodorant, etc. Our hotels will provide the basics like soap and shampoo, but if you are sensitive to fragrances or new products, you may wish to bring your preferred brands. Most hotels do not provide a washcloth, so you may wish to pack one.
- Spare eyeglasses/contact lenses

- Sunglasses, 100% UV block
- Sunscreen, SPF 15 or stronger
- Cold-water hand-wash laundry soap such as Woolite and plastic hang-up clothespins
- Light folding umbrella
- Moisturizer and sun-blocking lip balm
- Packets of pocket-size tissues
- Moist towelettes and/or anti-bacterial “water-free” hand cleanser
- Electrical converter & plug adapter: see “A Word about Electricity” for details
- Camera gear with extra batteries or battery charger

Medicines & First Aid Gear

- Your own prescription medicines
- Travel first aid kit: Band-Aids, headache and pain relief, laxatives and anti-diarrhea tablets, something for upset stomach. Maybe a cold remedy, moleskin foot pads, antibiotic cream, or allergy medication.
- An antibiotic medication for gastrointestinal illness

Home-Hosted Visits

Many of our adventures feature a visit with a local family, often as part of the A Day in the Life experience. It is customary, though not necessary, to return your hosts’ generosity with a small gift. If you do bring a gift, we recommend that you bring something the whole family can enjoy, or something that represents your region, state, or hometown. Get creative and keep it small—peach jelly from Georgia, maple sugar candy from New England, orange blossom soap from California; something that can be used or used up is best. When choosing a gift, be certain to consider the local culture as well. For example, we do not recommend alcohol in Muslim countries because it is forbidden in Islam, and your hosts may be religious. Not all O.A.T. adventures include a Home-Hosted Visit; please check your final itinerary before you depart.

Electricity Abroad

When traveling overseas, the voltage is usually different and the plugs might not be the same shape.

Voltage

Electricity in this region is 220–240 volts. In the U.S. it is 110 volts. Most of the things a traveler will want to plug in—battery chargers, smartphones, tablets or computers—can run off both 110 and 220–240. But you should check the item or the owner’s guide first to confirm this before you plug it in. If you have something that needs 110 volts—like a shaver or a hairdryer—you can bring a transformer to change the current. (But transformers tend to burn out, so it might be better to leave whatever it is at home.)

Plugs

The shape of plugs will vary from country to country, and sometimes even within a country depending on when that building was built. To plug something from the U.S. into a local socket you’ll need an adapter that fits between the plug and the socket. Since an E or F socket will take a C plug, you’ll only need one adapter, though it may be easier to purchase an all-in-one, universal adapter/converter combo. Versatile and lightweight, these can usually be found at your local electronics goods or hardware stores. Sometimes you can buy them at large retailers too, like Target or Walmart. If you forget to bring an adapter, you might also find them for sale at the airport when you arrive at your destination.

Different plug shapes are named by letters of the alphabet. Standard U.S. plugs are Type A and Type B. Here is the list of plugs for the countries on this trip:

Bulgaria: C

Romania: C

Turkey: C and E (note that C plugs fit into E sockets)

Greece: C, D, E and F

Type C

Type E

Type F

Availability

Barring the occasional and unpredictable power outage, electricity is as readily available on this adventure as it is in the U.S.

CLIMATE & AVERAGE TEMPERATURES

Bulgaria: The climate of Bulgaria is temperate continental, with very warm summers, cold winters, and four distinct seasons. Spring and fall are quite comfortable but can bring rainy days. The regions in southern Bulgaria feel a Mediterranean influence, and winters here are milder. Winters are also somewhat warmer along the coast of the Black Sea, although winds blowing down from Russia can chill the area. But during the summer the coast of the Black Sea enjoys more moderate temperatures than inland Bulgaria and pleasant breezes from the coast. Cities along the Danube, like Ruse and Vidin, have hot summers and cold winters, plus humidity can be quite high.

Romania: Romania's climate is temperate, with few extreme weather conditions. Mid-summer is generally quite hot, especially in the lowlands, where summer is usually dry. Spring and fall bring delightful, sunny days and comfortable temperatures. The mountains receive more precipitation than the Danube delta, with brief showers and occasional thunderstorms in the Carpathians. Winters bring cold temperatures and abundant snowfall, along with a cold wind known as the crivat that blows from Russia. Summer temperatures in Bucharest can reach into the 90s. During your stay in Sinaia, a mountain pass town, temperatures can fluctuate by 40 degrees or more. It can be in the upper 70s in the afternoon in July and August ... but the average high is around 50 degrees.

Sibiu, Romania: Sibiu is a city resting in the center of Romania, in the Transylvania region. Its climate is defined as moderately continental, with cold, below freezing winters and mild summers. The temperatures average a comfortable mid 70s during the summer months, but nights still bring a chill. Snow is common during the winter months, from December to mid-March.

Istanbul, Turkey: Geographically, western Turkey, including Istanbul, is in Europe, while the rest of the country is in Anatolia and Asia Minor. As you move from the west to the east, the altitude goes up. Due to the varied geography, you will experience a wide range of temperatures and weather conditions in Turkey. Istanbul is cooler than most of the places you'll visit, but winters are mild and snow is rare.

NOTE: If you are taking one of our optional stopovers before or after your OAT adventure, please be aware the climate and temperatures might be different from what you experienced during your tour. To prepare for weather differences and pack appropriate clothing, we recommend the following world weather sites:

- www.intellicast.com
- www.weather.com
- www.wunderground.com

Climate Averages & Online Forecast

The following charts reflect the average climate as opposed to exact weather conditions. This means they serve only as general indicators of what can reasonably be expected. An extreme heat wave or cold snap could fall outside these ranges. As your departure approaches, we encourage you to use www.weather.com for a more accurate forecast of the locations you visit.

ABOUT YOUR DESTINATIONS: CULTURE, ETIQUETTE & MORE

O.A.T. Trip Experience Leaders: A World of Difference

During your adventure, you'll be accompanied by one of our local, Trip Experience Leaders. All are fluent in English and possess the skills, certification, and experience necessary to ensure an enriching adventure. As locals of the regions you'll explore with them, our Trip Experience Leaders provide the kind of firsthand knowledge and insight that make local history, culture, and wildlife come alive. Coupled with their unbridled enthusiasm, caring personalities, and ability to bring diverse groups of travelers together, our Trip Experience Leaders ensure that your experience with O.A.T. is one you'll remember for a lifetime.

Southeast European Culture

The term "Balkan" has been used to refer to this region, specifically Croatia, Serbia, Bulgaria, and Romania. However, since the dissolution of Yugoslavia in the 1990s, the term "Balkanization" has had negative connotations that the people of these new, vibrant nations are eager to overcome. So today, they prefer to define this area as "Southeastern Europe."

The people of Southeastern Europe are mostly South Slavs, who are all descended from the same ancestors and speak closely related languages. South Slavic people identify with sub-ethnic groups such as Serbs, Croats, or Bosniaks, but their presence is not necessarily confined to specific countries, as they have historically migrated and intermingled. Remember, the states of Bulgaria, Serbia, and Romania are fairly recent, but the cultural pluralism within them is not.

The region has been a crossroads of cultures for millennia, a place where peoples of Slavic, Latin, Finno-Ugric, Greek and Turkish origin have settled. Where Roman, Byzantine, Ottoman, Habsburg, and Soviet empires have left their imprint. And where Roman Catholicism, Eastern Orthodoxy, Islam, and (up until the post World War II period) Judaism all meet.

With all that diversity, you will find that there are many words common across the spoken languages, similar culinary traditions, shared folk beliefs and mutual artistic, musical, literary and artisanal styles. Most important, across all South Slavic groups, family is of the utmost importance, and that includes extended family. Three generation households are common, and even when people move away (usually, for economic reasons), they retain close ties to their hometowns. It is all bound up in the concept of narod, which roughly means "nation" or "folk" and has mythic and romantic overtones.

South Slavic people are known to be down-to-earth, and the rhythm of daily life here is easygoing. They are passionate about sports—the most popular being soccer, followed by basketball. You'll notice that the people are very social and love to gather for long visits in cafes and village squares. There's an especially vibrant coffee culture throughout the region, a holdover from centuries of Ottoman rule. South Slavs stand close to each other and can be loud and expressive when they talk. But with strangers, they tend to be more formal. At the same time, hospitality is a point of family honor, and people will go out of their way to make you feel welcome.

The Danube River

The Danube River is the second-longest river in Europe and the only major European river to flow from west to east. It rises in the Black Forest region of Germany and flows in a generally easterly direction for a distance of 1,766 miles before emptying, on the Romanian coast, into the Black Sea. This legendary river not only shaped the destinies of all the countries that line its banks, but influenced the whole continent as no other European river ever could.

The Danube river basin is more than 300,000 square miles and includes parts of Germany, Austria, Slovakia, Hungary, Serbia, Croatia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Slovenia, Bulgaria, Romania, Moldavia, and Ukraine. The river is ancient and full of history, passing through the cities of Ulm, Regensburg, and Passau in Germany; Linz and Vienna in Austria; Bratislava in Slovakia; Budapest in Hungary; Belgrade in Serbia and Galatzi and Brăila in Romania. Canals link the Danube to the Main and Rhine, providing a commercial route between the Black and North Seas.

The strategic location of this great river was recognized centuries ago by Roman emperors who sought to control it. Ruins from that period now perch on banks above the river, reminding you of the Danube's multifaceted past. Even today, the Danube continues to be one of Europe's greatest assets, in part because it provides a water link between the four national capitals on its banks: Vienna, Bratislava, Budapest, and Belgrade. Back in the heyday of river transport, other great cities grew up along the Danube's banks too, serving as ports for the various cargo being carried on the river, namely salt, wood, and ores. These same products now are transferred on the railroad and highways, which run alongside the Danube's course.

There is no question that few river voyages can match the romantic appeal of a journey down the Danube. As you sail along this twisting river, stopping at fascinating ports, you'll gain an understanding of the art, music, and culture of a fabled region with a history that stretches back more than 3,000 years.

Religion and Religious Observances

Religion in Bulgaria and Romania is not just a matter of faith, it's the single most important differentiator among the various ethnic groups. By far the dominant religion in Bulgaria is Eastern Orthodox Christianity, professed by the prevalent ethnic group, the Bulgarians, who are adherents to the Bulgarian Orthodox Church. Likewise, most Romanians (about 82%) identify as Romanian Orthodox Christians.

Language

Generally your Program Director will provide you with language reference materials or may even lead a quick language lesson. We encourage you to try a few words for fun; even just "please" and "thank you" will take you a long way towards better interactions with the locals.

The Finer Points of Turkish Etiquette

Don't let the fine points of Turkish customs worry you; Turks know that visitors can't be expected to know every detail. Much of what is considered polite in Turkey is similar to what's polite in the U.S. But as a matter of interest, our regional office has put together a list of "finer points" that might surprise you:

- Body posture is important. Sprawling, pointing the soles of your feet at someone, or keeping your legs crossed when someone speaks to you are seen as impolite.
- Even after eating, your host might press you to take more. Perversely, while it is polite to accept a first helping, it is polite to decline a second helping...at least at first. (Eventually giving in and accepting more because the food is just too good to miss is perfectly acceptable.)
- Blowing your nose loudly and in public is frowned on.
- If a piece of bread is dropped, you may see a Turk pick it up, kiss it, and touch it to their forehead. This gesture is in remembrance that bread is the stuff of life and a gift from God.

Toilets in Turkey

Although all our accommodations feature western-style toilets, some rest stops on the road and some public restrooms will have eastern-style squat toilets. For women travelers who are novices at using a squat toilet, a skirt might be easier to maneuver than trousers. (This does not mean you need to wear a skirt every day, just that it might be worthwhile to bring a skirt for days with long transfers through small villages. The other "trick" is to wear trousers, but roll up the legs.)

Public toilets may be hard to find; it is just not a common facility in this part of the world. And inevitably, when one is found it is out of toilet paper, or soap, or both. Carry a travel-sized roll of toilet paper or packets of tissues along something to clean your hands—like anti-bacterial gel or moist wipes—and you'll be prepared no matter what. Rest stops on the road will be widely spaced, and may be extremely basic. Despite their basic nature, there is often a small fee to use the restroom.

Because many buildings have older plumbing, with narrow pipes that easily clog, it is also common for public restrooms to offer a special trashcan inside the stall. Waste paper is put into the can instead of flushed. You may also see this arrangement when visiting a home.

Alcohol Consumption in Turkey

Although alcohol is forbidden by Islam, attitudes towards alcohol are more relaxed in Turkey and Central Asia than in the Middle East. In Turkey, alcohol is readily available in city restaurants and cafes, and areas that cater to foreign guests. (It is, however, heavily taxed.) Markets may not sell alcohol between 10pm and 6am (but restaurants can). You may want to try one of the local specialties—raki in Turkey. Just don't bring alcohol as a gift for the locals—if someone is personally strict in adhering to Islam, they won't be able to enjoy it.

Hotel Courtesy in Greece

Greek hotels do not allow food and beverages to be taken from their breakfast rooms, nor is it courteous to eat or drink food or beverages purchased elsewhere in hotel common rooms. In conformity with municipal laws to promote urban decorum, hotels do not allow hanging laundry on room balconies. Travel clotheslines, used in your bathroom, are a more private and effective solution.

Taking Photographs

The etiquette of photographing people in most countries is about the same as it would be on the streets of your hometown. You need permission to take a close-up, but not for a crowd scene. Be especially polite if you want to photograph children or older women. If you want to shoot a great portrait, show interest in your subject and try to have a bit of social interaction first. Then use sign language to inquire if a picture is OK.

Please do not take photographs of military personnel, military compounds, or other official institutions/personnel (such as police). This may result in the confiscation of your camera.

In museums or at archaeological sites, there may be restrictions on using your flash. Please obey any signs or directions by staff; the no-flash rule protects the fragile artifacts and artwork from damage by repeated exposure to light. Occasionally, there may also be a small fee levied by the museum or site for the privilege of taking photos.

Safety & Security

As you travel, exercise the same caution and awareness that you would in a large American city. Don't be overly nervous or suspicious, but keep your eyes open. If you are venturing out after dark, go with one or two other people.

Carry a one-day supply of cash, and your passport, in a travel pouch. Don't leave valuables unattended in your hotel room. Most hotels will offer use of a hotel safe at the front desk or an electronic in-room safe (for which you can set your own personal number). Please utilize this.

Pickpockets may create a sudden distraction. In any sort of puzzling street situation, try to keep one hand on your wallet or money belt. If an encounter with a local turns out to be long and complicated and involves money or your valuables, be very careful.

Bulgarian Cuisine

Bulgarians love to bond over their shared meals. During these meals you will find that Bulgarian cuisine shares many characteristics with other Balkan countries, as well as their neighbors to the south, including Greece and Turkey. Foods like yogurt, sirene (a Bulgarian type of brined cheese), and sausage accompany most dishes you will encounter.

- Topcheta: A Bulgarian meatball soup thickened with egg yolks and yogurt.
- Shkembe: This traditional Bulgarian soup is made from tripe and a great hangover cure.

- Banitsa: A baked pastry made of layered stuffing and phyllo that can be made with eggs, sirene, and yogurt.
- Tutmanik: This is similar to pita but is made with yeast dough, milk, and white cheese.
- Milinki: This bread roll pastry is made with eggs and sirene.
- Buhti: Deep-fried dough balls, served with jam, honey, and sirene.
- Shopska salad: This salad has chopped cucumbers, onions, peppers, tomatoes, and is topped with sirene.
- Tarator: A cold soup made from cucumbers, garlic, yogurt, and dill.
- Lukanka: Spicy salami consisting of minced beef and pork.
- Pulneni chushki: Bulgarian stuffed bell peppers.
- Bulgarian Gyuvech: This casserole is served in a clay pot and is made with with pork or beef, tomatoes, okra, mushrooms, peas, green beans, potatoes, eggplant, and onions.

Romanian Cuisine

If you like unpretentious food with robust flavors, you'll love what arrives on your plate in Romania, whose cuisine weds fresh local ingredients with the culinary influences of Turkey, Hungary, Saxon Germany, Austria, Greece, and Russia.

Certain ingredients make a regular appearance at the Romanian table, such as smantana, a sour cream. It's the base for mujdei de usteroi, a ubiquitous garlic sauce. Perhaps, like the Romanians, you'll grow to love lovage, a Mediterranean herb that's a cross between parsley and celery. You can also expect to see a green pepper (raw or pickled) on the side of your plate or soup bowl. The most popular meat here is pork, especially around Christmas when it was traditional to slaughter a hog and use it, nose to tail, to make a whole array of holiday dishes. Tochitură is one of them (but now available year round)—a thick pork stew cooked in tomatoes and wine, and topped with a fried egg.

Romanian pastrami may be the pride of every New York deli, but here where it originated, you will find that the pastrama method of brining, seasoning, and smoking is applied to a whole variety of meats, including veal, mutton, beef, pork, or even goat. In fact, the pastrami that Romanian Jews first brought to New York in 1872 was originally made with cured goose breast. You'll find that here, too. Romanians like their pastrama thinly sliced as an appetizer; or as an entrée served with mămăligă (Romanian polenta) and garlic sauce.

- Sarmale (or sărmăluțe): This national dish is made from cabbage rolls stuffed with pork and rice.
- Pastrav: This Romanian trout is perfect for fish lovers, which is served at countryside trout farms called pastavarie.
- salată roșii: Or tomato salad, that includes a huge array of pickled vegetables.

- Salată castraveți: Cucumber salad made from thinly sliced cucumbers, onions, olive oil, salt, tarragon, and cider vinegar.
- Salata de vinete,: A creamy eggplant spread made from very few ingredients.
- Ghiveci de legume: A savory stew that can contain over 20 braised vegetables.
- Mititei or mici: The name means “little ones,” but these small, skinless sausages pack a big flavor punch and can be found at food stalls.
- Covrigi: A Romanian pretzel.
- Papanasi: A bombshell of fried dough and sweetened curd cheese, topped with jam and cream.
- Placinta: These are similar to crêpes. There are savory versions but most popular are the sweet ones filled with sweet cheese, apples, sour cherries, Nutella, or jam.
- Cozonac: A traditional holiday sweet bread filled with walnuts, poppy seeds or cream cheese.

There are good Romanian wines to pair with your meal. But a true Romanian would advise you to “aid your digestion” with a glass of tuica plum brandy. Pofta mare, or “hearty appetite!”

Turkish Cuisine

Turkey’s storied gastronomic tradition is often ranked as one of the world’s top three cuisines (alongside French and Chinese). Aside from Turkey’s own rich agricultural bounty, its crossroads location has meant that exotic ingredients from Persia, Central Asia, Africa, the Mediterranean and beyond have graced the local diet for centuries. Then there is the technical artistry of the legendary Ottoman and Seljuk palace chefs—chefs who were often sent abroad (or imported from far-flung imperial colonies) expressly for the purpose of inventing and refining new dishes. Prepare to be delighted by dishes like these:

- Borek: A breakfast pastry of flaky phyllo dough filled with meat or cheese
- Menemen: A breakfast dish where eggs are whisked into a pot of cooked vegetables with broth that is something like a cross between scrambled eggs and stew.
- Sulu yemek: A traditional stew that can include any combination of vegetables and may include meat, poultry, sausages, or seafood. It is recommend you try this dish at an ev yemekleri, which is typically run by women and serve up home-cooked meals.
- Hamsili pilav: A seafood dish of oven baked rice layered with fresh anchovies.
- Midye dolma: A seafood dish of mussels stuffed with aromatic rice, nuts, and spices such as raisins, pine nuts, saffron, black pepper, cinnamon, red pepper flakes, parsley, and dill. Often found at a balik restoran, a fish and seafood restaurant.

- Kebabs: The most popular and well-known street food, here are dozens of varieties of these grilled (and often skewered) delicacies made of seasoned beef, lamb, or chicken. (The one thing you won't find in Turkey is pork, as it is forbidden according to the Islamic halal tradition.)
- Pide: A popular street food, pide is a flatbread-style pizza topped with your choice of kasarlı or peynirli cheese, yumurtalı (egg), sucuklu (sausage) and more.
- Yaprak sarma: A vegetarian dish of grape leaves filled with rice and seasoned with onion, mint, currants, peppers and cinnamon.
- Taze fasulye: A vegetarian dish of green beans simmered with tomatoes and onions
- Dondurma: An out-of-this-world frozen dessert made from orchid flour and a sweet, fruity resin called mastic. It's like ice cream that you eat with a knife and fork
- Baklava: A dessert pastry of layered phyllo dough, honey, and pistachios that is perhaps the most famous confection to come out of Turkey's imperial kitchens. It comes in several shapes and varieties: cevizli is with chopped walnut stuffing; fistikli is with pistachio nuts; kaymaklı is with clotted cream.

Greek Cuisine

A perfect Mediterranean climate. More than 6,000 islands and no mainland location more than 90 miles from the sea. Bountiful (and mostly organic) olive groves, fruit orchards, pastures, and vineyards. With all this richness, Greece has had no reason to change or complicate its cuisine in thousand of years. Here, it is the quality and freshness of simple ingredients that makes every dish a flavorful standout. So, let's start as the Greeks do, with mesethes, or mezes. These are frequently described as appetizers and though a specific meze may be offered as a first course, for most Greeks mezes is a separate event in and of itself. One goes out for mezes with friends and family, sharing various small plates of food, drinks, pastries, and conversation. You might be served one of the flavorful dishes below:

- Pasta elias: An olive paste to spread on breadsticks.
- Feta: A Greek brined white cheese that is soft and made from sheep or goat milk.
- Kasseri: A Greek hard cheese.
- Sea bream: A white fish with a rich flavor that is not too fishy. It is often served as a fillet and accompanied by baby potatoes or seasonal herbs.
- Keftedes: These are seasoned meatballs also accompanied by a dip.
- Kolokythokeftedes: Also known as zucchini fritters. These are often accompanied by tzatziki (yogurt, cucumber, and garlic dip), or melitzanosalata (eggplant dip), or fava (bean dip).
- Dolmathakia or dolmas: Are grape leaves rolled and stuffed with rice, pine nuts, meat, or other seasonings.

- Moussaka: A layered casserole of eggplant, ground lamb, tomato sauce, and potatoes covered in béchamel sauce and cheese, and spiced with cinnamon.
- Pastitsio: A lasagna-like dish made with pasta and ground beef or lamb, béchamel, cheese, cinnamon, and nutmeg.
- Gyros and souvlaki: These chunks or slices of seasoned grilled meat (usually lamb or pork) with chopped tomatoes and onions in pita bread, with lashings of tzatziki are sold in stalls everywhere.
- Spanakopita: A phyllo pastry layered with feta cheese and spinach.
- Kakavia: A specialty in the Aegean. This rockfish soup is made with cured sardines and various grilled whole fish drizzled with ladholemono (a lemon and oil dressing).
- Arni me votana: A lamb casserole with vegetables, beans, tomatoes, potatoes and herbs.
- Kaimaki: A sweet cream topped with nuts and honey that is famous in the Peloponnese
- Pastitsada: This signature dish of the Ionian islands is made with savory chicken or beef simmered in wine, cinnamon, garlic and spices. It's often served with bucatini pasta, a nod to the area's Venetian past.
- Glyko kastano: A chestnut pudding with honey and orange found in western Greece.
- Revani: A moist semolina cake with lemon and orange.
- Eliopsomo: A traditional Greek olive bread.
- Tyropita: This savory pastry is similar to spanakopita, but it's filling consists of cheese and eggs.

Bucharest in Brief

Once known as the Paris of the Balkans, before World War II and decades of communism wore the sheen off the city, Bucharest has refurbished itself in recent years and now welcomes visitors to its broad boulevards, small cafés, and historic monuments. Away from downtown, Bucharest is a sprawling metropolis with identical, somewhat drab neighborhoods that make it easy to get lost. The Intercontinental Hotel towers above everything else and is a good marker for locating downtown. The twelve-story Palace of Parliament, built during the reign of Nicolae Ceausescu, houses the president's office, the Chamber of Deputies, the Senate, the central committee, and all the state ministries. Guided tours through this monumental, 3,100-room complex are available.

The Calea Victoriei is Bucharest's main street and most famous thoroughfare, but you may want to start at the Princely Court, the palace that was home to the 15th-century ruler who was the real-life evil inspiration for Bram Stoker's creepy classic Dracula. Here you can still see the thick fortress walls that were originally built from river stones. The huge cellars cover such a large area that surrounding shops and restaurants are often attached to the complex through a below-ground maze. South along Calea Victoriei is the Strada Lipscani, a four-block area of artisans, crafts, and shops that showcase the old Bucharest.

Bucharest has a mixed architectural heritage. Exposed to numerous invaders over the centuries it lacks much of the classic Renaissance feel that older European cities display. The older sections of Bucharest, such as Strada Lipscani, give a glimpse of Bucharest's eastern influences with their narrow streets and crowded bazaars. Late 19th-century influences tended toward the French with the result that Bucharest seems a near modern European capital city, at least in places. In particular, the Calea Victoriei between Revolution Square and Victory Square is worth a look.

The Curtea Veche Church, a 16th-century structure, is next to the Princely Court, and nearby is the Hanul Manuc, a 19th-century hotel that remains a fine place to stop. The Stavropoleos Church, built in 1742, is a good example of the Byzantine influence in the city. The History Museum has a wonderful collection of ornaments, gold, and precious stones. Revolution Square and the palace of the Republic are reminders of the days of the country's last communist dictator, the tyrannical Nicolae Ceausescu.

The streets in Bucharest beyond Victory Square lead out of town. Note the French influence exhibited by the Arc de Triomphe, which honors the Romanian dead from World War I. The Village Museum on Soseaua Kiseleff is full of good examples of pastoral Romanian architecture through the ages. A nearby lake and park are good spots for relaxing or even hiring a boat for a small excursion.

Local Transportation

Most sights are concentrated in the city center. Bucharest's public transit network consists of a metro system, trams, and buses. There are four subway lines with tickets sold from kiosks inside the station. Buses and maxi taxis (minibuses that stop on request) are readily available up to 11 pm. There are five maxi taxi routes in the city and tickets can be bought on board. You can hail a taxi on the street, but it is easier to have your hotel call a dispatcher. If you choose to use a taxi at a taxi stand or one you hail on the street, definitely agree on a price beforehand! In general, transportation is quite cheap in Bucharest.

Shopping: What to Buy, Customs, Shipping & More

There may be scheduled visits to local shops during your adventure. There is no requirement to make a purchase during these stops, and any purchase made is a direct transaction with the shop in question, subject to the vendor's terms of purchase. O.A.T. is not responsible for purchases you make on your trip or for the shipment of your purchases.

Returns

If you discover an issue with an item, you should contact the vendor directly and expect that any resolution will take longer than it would in the U.S. We recommend that you keep a copy of all your receipts, invoices, or contracts, along with the shop's contact information. Keep in mind, local practice may vary from U.S. standards, so don't assume that you have a certain number of days after the purchase to speak up or that you are guaranteed a refund.

Crafts & Souvenirs

Bulgaria

Traditional items include rose oil (or rose water), ceramics, kilims (a colorful, flat woolen rug), copper, wood carvings, woolen items, jewelry, tablecloths and lace, and bells.

Romania

Bucharest is renowned for its hand-woven carpets, which can be purchased from several authorized retailers in the city. For real bargains consider crystal, porcelain, ceramics, and china, of which good-quality items can be purchased at relatively low prices in local shops. Local arts and crafts can be purchased at Artizanat stores that specialize in dolls, masks, and embroidered objects made by local craftspeople.

Turkey

Traditional souvenirs include beautiful handmade rugs, tiles, pottery, gold jewelry, and products made of copper, silk, and leather.

Bargaining: In Turkey, some shops have fixed prices. In the open-air markets prices are usually flexible and negotiating is normal. The only rule is that if you make an offer, you should be prepared to buy at that price. Bring a mix of small bills so that you can pay in exact change.

Tip: Street vendors have been known to be persistent, so if you really aren't interested, it is best not to start the bargaining process, or even make eye contact.

Antiques: Items that are 100 years old or older are not allowed to leave Turkey. If someone offers you an antique item for sale, keep in mind that if it is truly more than 100 years old, they should not be selling it to you. They are either ignorant of the customs laws or the item is really not as old as they say it is.

Greece

Specialties include handicrafts, gold and silver jewelry, embroidered shirts and dresses, fabrics, flokati rugs of fluffy sheep wool, pottery, onyx, marble, jars containing traditional marmalade, herbs (oregano and thyme), honey bars and jars of honey, olive oil, and traditional beauty products made from olives. These are available in the main shopping area downtown around Syntagma, Omonia, and Kolonaki squares as well as in Monastiraki, the flea market, where shopping sometimes involves bargaining. Some of the best jewelry comes from Ioannina, ceramics from Sifnos and Skopelos, and embroidery from Skryos, Crete, Lefkas, and Rhodes. Thessaly and Epirus regions specialize in flokati rugs.

U.S. Customs Regulations & Shipping Charges

For all things related to U.S. Customs, the ultimate authority is the U.S. Bureau of Customs & Border Protection. Their website, www.cbp.gov has the answers to the most frequently asked questions. Or you can call them at 1-877-227-5511.

The top three points to know are:

- At time of writing, your personal duty-free allowance is $800 for items brought with you. Items totaling more than $800 are subject to duty fees.
- Items shipped home are always subject to duty when received in the U.S. Even when the shop has offered to include shipping and duties in the price, this typically means shipping to the nearest customs facility and payment of the export duties—not door-to-door shipping or payment of the import duties. All additional duties or shipping charges would be your responsibility. Unless an item is small enough to send by parcel service (like FedEx), chances are you will need to arrange shipping or pick-up once the item is in the U.S. and will need to pay customs duties.
- It is illegal to import products made from endangered animal species. U.S. Customs & Border Protection will seize these items, as well as most furs, coral, tortoise shell, reptile skins, feathers, plants, and items made from animal skins.

DEMOGRAPHICS & HISTORY

Bulgaria

Facts, Figures & National Holidays

- Area: 42,811 square miles
- Capital: Sofia
- Language: Bulgarian is the official language. English is usually understood in major hotels and restaurants but it is infrequently used in other settings. It is important to note that in Bulgaria, nodding the head means “no” and shaking the head means “yes.”
- Location: Bulgaria lies on the Black Sea in southeastern Europe, on the eastern part of the Balkans, with beautiful beaches on its coastline, the mountainous Balkan Range inland, and the fertile plains of the Danube in the north. Its borders touch Romania, Greece, Turkey, the Republic of Macedonia, and Serbia. Within the two great valleys of this country are nestled small villages where carts, not cars, are the main form of transportation.
- Population: 7,186,893 (estimate)
- Religion: Eastern Orthodox 59.4%, Muslim 7.8%, Other 1.7 %, None 3.7%, and unspecified 27.4 %
- Time Zone: Bulgaria is on Eastern European Time, which is seven hours ahead of Eastern Time in North America: when it is 12 noon in Washington D.C., it is 7 pm in Sofia. Daylight Saving Time is in effect from the last Sunday of March until the last Sunday of October.

Romania: A Brief History

The country we call “Romania” did not come to be until the 19th century, and since then, its borders have fluctuated. Individual Romanians may trace their lineage to the various groups who held sway here—Greeks, Turks, Slavs, Magyars, Saxon Germans, and Russians—but the national heritage is linked to the Dacian people. They likely migrated from Thrace and settled in Romania around 3,300 BC. By 300 BC, they had formed a military democracy. But Dacia died with its last king, Decebalus, who was defeated by the Roman emperor Trajan. Today Decebalus is a Romanian national hero symbolizing freedom and resistance to imperialism.

Rome occupied Dacia for less than 200 years, but their intense Romanization program left a lasting impact. Settlers from Rome were moved here. The local language was replaced with Latin. And the Romans mingled with the Dacians. Rome withdrew in 271 AD, unable to stem the tide of new invaders: Huns, Goths, Slavs, Bulgars, and Magyars. By the 10th century, a fragmented feudal society had emerged, with the nobles from outside ethnic groups, and serfs who were Romanian peasants. In the 14th century the first Romanian principality was formed, Wallachia, followed by Moldavia. Transylvania was a principality under the Hungarian crown.

These fiefdoms had shifting allegiances, but resisted the Ottoman Turks (even uniting briefly under Michael the Brave in 1600.) Still, they all became Ottoman vassals. When the Turks were beaten back from Vienna in 1683, Transylvania reverted to Hungarian (Hapsburg) rule. Wallachia and Moldavia remained part of the Ottoman Empire, but after the Russo-Turkish War of 1828, they became Russian protectorates. In 1859 the two principalities united under a single prince, Alexander Ioan Cuza. The new state was named Romania, and it became a kingdom in 1881.

Romania declared its neutrality during World War I. But towards the end it sided with the Allies and by so doing, it recouped much lost territory, including Transylvania. King Carol II was crowned in 1930 and set up a dictatorship, setting the stage for a takeover by the Fascist Iron Guard in 1940. Romania signed the Axis Pact and joined the Nazi's assault on the Soviet Union. The Red Army "liberated" Romania in 1944, and a Communist government was elected in 1946.

Throughout the '50s Romania suffered a Stalinist terror during which most prewar leaders, intellectuals, and dissidents were imprisoned or killed. Even the Romanian language came under fire, as the Soviets changed street and city names and imposed a Slavic orthography. When Soviet troops withdrew in 1958, Romania's obeisance to Moscow eroded. Its independent foreign policy was exemplified in 1968, when the leader Nicolae Ceaușescu refused to send Romanian troops to support the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia. Ceaușescu's anti-Soviet stance earned him the admiration of the West, but his regime was corrupt and repressive.

By the 1980s, Ceausescu's Romania was in severe debt and suffering severe shortages of food and fuel. When the Iron Curtain fell in 1989, a Bucharest rally of 100,000 turned against him. The dictator was forced to flee by helicopter, but ended up in army custody and was executed.

Romania's transition to democracy and a market economy was difficult, and the 90s and early aughts saw several governments fall amidst public dissatisfaction. The country joined NATO in 2004, and the European Union in 2007. Though hit hard by the 2008 financial crisis, Romania's economy has been relatively stable since 2011. The current Prime Minister, economist Florin Cîțu, took office in December, 2020.

Turkey

Facts, Figures & National Holidays

- Area: 302,535 square miles
- Capital: Ankara (although Istanbul is the largest city)
- Government: Unitary Presidential Constitutional Republic
- Languages: Turkish is the dominant language in the Turkic language group, which also includes such lesser-known tongues as Kirghiz, Kazakh, and Azerbaijani.

- Location: Turkey occupies the Asian peninsula of Anatolia (Asia Minor) and a tiny corner of the European peninsula of Thrace. These two regions form a land bridge, which is interrupted by a narrow waterway called the Bosphorus. To the west, Turkey is bordered by the Aegean Sea, Greece, and Bulgaria; to the east, by Georgia, Armenia, and Iran; on the north, by the Black Sea; and to the south, by the Mediterranean Sea, Syria, and Iraq. While most of Turkey is in Asia, because of her membership in the Council of Europe she is regarded as a European country.
- Geography: Turkey is relatively big (larger than Texas) and has a varied geography. Many visitors come to Turkey expecting to find mostly dusty deserts, palm trees, and camel caravans, when in fact its diverse landscape also includes lots of craggy snowcapped mountains, gentle hills, broad lakes, cool pine forests, and miles of white beaches.
- Population: 84,680,273 (estimate)
- Religion: Muslim 99.8%, other 0.2%
- Time Zone: Turkey goes by Eastern European time: two hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time, or seven hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time. When it is noon in Turkey, it's 5 am in New York, and 2 am in Los Angeles.

Turkey: A Brief History

Long before recorded history, nomadic peoples inhabited Turkey. By 7000 BC, they'd ceased wandering and founded permanent settlements, including one of the world's oldest cities, Çatalhöyük (outside Konya). Turkey's first empire arose during the Bronze Age with the Hittites. Rivals of Babylon and Egypt, they were eventually conquered by Assyrians and Greeks. Hellenic Turkey flourished in places like Troy, Lycia, and the Phrygia. After Alexander the Great "liberated" Anatolia from Persia, the Romans arrived in 129 BC, and made Ephesus their capital.

In 330 AD, the Roman Emperor Constantine converted to Christianity, renamed Byzantium Constantinople, and made it his capital. For the next seven centuries it was the heart of the Byzantine (Eastern Roman) empire. But by the 11th century AD, Byzantine power had declined, and the Seljuk Turks invaded from Central Asia, bringing Islam with them, and conquering Syria, Palestine, and parts of the waning Byzantine Empire. The rise of the Seljuks prompted Christian Europe to mount a series of bloody Crusades. The Seljuk's demise came in the late 13th century when Mongols swept across Anatolia, splintering the Seljuk empire into small principalities called beyliks. One of these was led by Othman I, founder of the Ottoman dynasty.

The Ottoman empire grew based on an administrative and military model called the janissary system. It plucked the smartest and strongest boys from conquered subjects, and schooled them in Islam and war. For 300 years, this army pushed the empire from Anatolia to the Middle East,

North Africa, and into Europe. In 1453, the Byzantine Empire received a deathblow when the Ottomans took the capital, Constantinople. Ottoman culture reached its zenith under Suleiman the Magnificent (1520–66), who codified Ottoman law, ensured tolerance of Christians and Jews, sponsored a flourishing of the arts, and expanded the borders. His likes were never seen again and after a succession of weak rulers and growing opposition from European states, by the late 17th century the empire began to decline. Its final gasp came with World War I.

Turkey's next visionary leader arose just after the war, during the Greek occupation of Izmir in 1919. A commander called Mustafa Kemal led his armies to victory against the French, Italians, and Greeks, who were expelled in 1922. In 1923, Turkey became an independent republic, with Kemal as president. Given the title "Ataturk" (meaning "father of the Turks"), he initiated a program of modernization, democratization and radical westernization. Ataturk made sweeping reforms to ensure that the new republic would be secular, including a new legal code to supplant Islamic law, and the limitation of clerical power. Women were granted equal rights, the alphabet was changed from Arabic to Latin, and even western styles of dress were favored. Ataturk also instituted free and compulsory education, and industrialized the economy. Ataturk ruled until his death in 1938, but the pillars of his policy, known as Kemalism, are still revered.

After World War II, Turkey furthered relations with Western Europe by joining the United Nations, and increasing individual liberties. Turkish troops fought in Korea, and Turkey was made a member of NATO in 1952. However, economic difficulties led to a military coup in 1960, followed by nearly two decades in which Turkey alternated between civilian and military rule.

In 1982, a new constitution was adopted and Turkey resumed its western ties. During the Gulf War, it supported UN forces. In 2014, Recep Tayyip Erdogan became president, after having served as Prime Minister since 2003. A religious conservative, he has exerted authoritarian control, and criticism of his regime for suppression of dissent, human rights abuses, and attacks on journalists are some reasons why Turkey's accession to the EU has been stalled since 2016.

- Area: 50,949 square miles
- Capital: Athens
- Population: 10,775,643 (estimate)
- Languages: Greek
- Geography: The peninsula that constitutes mainland Greece is surrounded by more than 5000 islands, of which 220 are inhabited—169 have more than 150 inhabitants. The islands are divided into six groups: the Cyclades, the Ionians, the Dodecanese, the islands of the Northeastern Aegean, the Sporades and the Saronic Gulf islands. The two largest islands, Crete and Evia, do not belong to any group. Roughly four-fifths of Greece is mountainous, with most land lying over 1500m (4920ft) above sea level. Epiros and Macedonia, in northern Greece, still have extensive forests, but goat grazing, felling and forest fires have seriously denuded the rest of the country.

- Religions: Greek Orthodox 98%, Muslim 1.3%, other 0.7%
- Time Zone: Greece is on Eastern European Time, two hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time (seven hours ahead of Eastern Time). Summer hours operate from the last Sunday in March until the last weekend in October.

Greece: A Brief History

The glory that was Greece reached its pinnacle during the Classical period, between 500 and 300 BC. But the seeds for that golden age, which has stood for centuries as a beacon of Western civilization, were sown at least 700,000 years ago, when humans first appeared in Greece. But it was during the Bronze Age, around 3,000 BC, when three major Greek civilizations emerged.

The Cycladic culture of the Aegean islands was sustained by farming and seafaring. But the small island populations made it hard for larger, more complex societies to organize. Not so for the Minoans of Crete, who created a palace culture, a written system of language, and effective military and mercantile sectors. Had Crete not been wracked by natural disasters, the Minoans may have prevailed against the mainland Mycenaeans who landed around 1400 BC. But their star faded in 1100 BC, when the Dorians took over, and Greece entered a Dark Age.

Light dawned again around 800 B.C., when the Greeks came into contact with the Phoenicians. The Greeks borrowed their alphabet, which Homer used to record his epics. This was followed by the Persian Wars, which continued from 520 to 480 BC, and prompted some Greek city-states to form an alliance under Athens called the Delian League. When Persia was beaten in 461 BC, the leader Pericles presided over Athens' golden age. He rebuilt the city, including its iconic Acropolis. Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides were writing plays; and Socrates and Plato were teaching. But when the Delian League clashed with the militaristic Peloponnesian League of Sparta, a Peloponnesian war persisted for 27 years, with Sparta prevailing.

Athens was conquered by Philip II of Macedon in 360 BC. When he was assassinated, his son Alexander (the Great) was embraced by Athens. Though Alexander built an empire that reached as far east as India, his death left Greece vulnerable. By 200 BC, Rome had annexed all of Greece, but they venerated the culture. Athens remained an important seat of learning until Justinian closed its philosophy schools in AD 529. Under Byzantine rule (AD 300–1200), many temples were modified to Christian use, and Athens became a provincial backwater.

After the fall of Constantinople in 1453, the Ottomans seized Athens and ruled for almost 400 years, during which time the Acropolis was desecrated. The Ottoman yoke was shaken off with the bloody 1829 War of Independence. Through the intervention of Britain, France, and Russia, Greece became a monarchy whose kings were largely foreigners. This helped to keep Greece out of World War I, but World War II was another story. The country was overrun by Hitler and the civilian population suffered greatly. More than half the nation's Jews were murdered.

In 1944, civil war broke out between the communist and monarchist resistance groups who had helped defeat the Nazis. It lasted for three years and took more lives than the entirety of World War II. A diaspora ensued, with many Greeks fleeing to Australia, the United States, and Canada. Greece joined NATO in 1952 and continued to be ruled as a monarchy until 1967, when former King Constantine fled Greece after a military junta. In 1974, democracy was restored and the monarchy was abolished in favor of a republic. In 1981, Greece joined the European Union.

The focus for 21st century Greece has been its economy. Integration with Europe brought a rising standard of living, but also skyrocketing costs and a serious debt crisis. This threatened to take down the EU, which provided bailouts that required strict austerity. Greeks endured record unemployment, protests, and successive governments. By 2018, Greece's credit rating improved and in 2019, the center-right New Democracy party of Prime Minister Kyriakos Mitsotakis won a landslide election, and did so again in 2023.

General

The Bridge of Sighs: A Novel by Olen Steinhauer (2003, Mystery) Set in an unnamed Eastern European country under Soviet control, this mystery follows a young member of the state's police force on his first big case. The only trouble is that no one trusts him and his co-workers think he's a spy. This is the first of a series that also includes The Confession and 36 Yalta Boulevard.

Bulgaria

Balkan Ghosts, A Journey through History by Robert D. Kaplan (History) Both old-fashioned literate traveler and journalist, Kaplan in this articulate report brings together the history, art and culture of Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Romania and Greece with recent events to paint a portrait of the region in the 1980s. Updated with opinion pieces written in the 1990s.

Romania

In Search of Dracula by Raymond T. McNally (History) Examines the fictional vampire who made Transylvania world-famous, and traces the history of the legend and its roots in the historical Transylvanian figures of Vlad Dracul and his son, Vlad the Impaler.

Red Horizons: Chronicles of a Communist Spy Chief by Ion Mihai Pacepa (1987, True Crime). A former member of the Securitate, the secret police of Communist Romania, Ion Mihai Pacepa reveals the corruption and oppression inherent in the Nicolae Ceausescu government, which ruled Romania from 1974 to the dictator's execution in 1989.

Turkey

Birds Without Wings by Louis De Bernieres (2004, Fiction) A sweeping historical drama that weaves together the lives of an Anatolian family, the collapse of the Ottoman Empire, and the rise of Ataturk. Highly recommended.

Fragments of Culture: The Everyday of Modern Turkey by Deniz Kandiyoti and Ayse Saktanber (2002, Sociology) This carefully curated collection of articles by leading scholars from various disciplines offers a detailed and vivid portrait of daily life in contemporary Turkey.

The Bastard of Istanbul by Elif Shafak (2006, Fiction) Nineteen year-old Aysa is chafing to break free of the four headstrong women at the heart of her Istanbul family. But things change when her uncle's stepdaughter arrives from America. The two young women discover secrets that link their families to the 1915 Armenian genocide. The book caused a sensation in Turkey, where the author was put on trial for "insulting Turkishness."

The Janissary Tree by Jason Goodwin (2006, Historical Mystery) Winner of the Edgar Award, this is the first in a series of novels featuring the eunuch detective Yashim. Here, he prowls the alleys, harems, salons and mosques of 1836 Istanbul to solve three cases related to the historical disbanding (and slaughter) of the elite Janissary troops.

The Museum of Innocence (2008), The White Castle (1985), or My Name is Red (1998) by Orhan Pamuk (Historical Fiction) Three moving historical novels by the winner of the 2006 Nobel Prize in Literature. The Museum of Innocence is about a complicated love triangle in 1970s Istanbul; The White Castle tells of a seventeenth-century Italian scholar who becomes enslaved in the service of an astronomer; and My Name is Red describes the events surrounding the murder of a miniaturist during the height of the Ottoman Empire.

Greece

The Rise of Athens: The Story of the World's Greatest Civilization by Anthony Everitt (2017, History) This book traces the origins of modern Athens and goes well beyond it, with plenty of entertaining detail about the figures who made it great, as well as those who contributed to its demise.

Ancient Greece: Art, Architecture, and History by Marina Belozerskaya and Kenneth Lapatin (2004, Art/Architecture) A lively guide to the architecture, painting, and sculpture of ancient Greece with color illustrations.

Dinner with Persephone by Patricia Storace (1996, Travel Narrative) An American fluent in Greek, Storace recalls a year of living and traveling there and the complexities, heartbreak, humor, and resilience of a people rooted in their glorious past, yet uncertain of the future.

The King Must Die and The Bull From the Sea by Mary Renault (1958, Fiction) Modern retellings of the Greek myth of Theseus and the Minotaur. Recommended by travelers.

Mythology: Timeless Tales of Gods and Heroes and Greek Mythology by Edith Hamilton (1942, Mythology) These classic introductions to Greek and Roman mythology is still used as the standard in high schools and colleges throughout the U.S. From the Olympians to the Trojan War, Hamilton presents the myths and adventure stories of the ancient world in a clear and accessible manner.

Suggested Films & Videos

Bulgaria

Mila from Mars (2004, Drama) Arguably the most-awarded film in Bulgaria's recent cinematic history, the film follows a pregnant teen who escapes from a dangerous man to a remote village in order to give birth to her child. Haunted by her troubled past, 16-year-old Mila struggles with embracing the present, and is frightened of the unknown and what will become of her future.

Stolen Eyes (2005, Drama) This film by Bulgarian director Radoslav Spassov pulls no punches in depicting a black period of recent Bulgarian history—the late 1980s. The film tells a story of an impossible love between a Turkish woman, Ayten, and a Bulgarian man, Ivan. The unlikely pair first meets at the “regeneration process,” (when ethnic Turks’ names were forcibly changed to Bulgarian ones.) Although they have many cultural differences, they gradually overcome their animosity and are drawn toward each other. The question is—will the people around them accept their choices?

Letter to America (2001, Drama) In the 2001 Bulgarian drama, a boy named Ivan is denied a visa to the United States and therefore cannot stay by the side of his dying best friend, Kamen. Ivan decides to take a journey to the Bulgarian countryside where he documents his experiences using the camera that was given to him by Kamen. After spending some time there, Ivan writes her a very special letter, detailing all the places he visits and people he meets along the way.

Romania

The Death of Mr. Lazarescu (2005, Drama) In this Romanian dark comedy from director Cristi Puiu, a 63-year-old man with a history of excessive drinking starts to feel ill and calls an ambulance for help. Mr. Lazarescu continuously tries to get assistance as his health starts to deteriorate fast. This cynical medical drama reveals Mr. Lazarescu’s unpleasant journey from one hospital to the next.

12:08 East of Bucharest (2006, Drama) A glimpse of Eastern Europe after that Cold War is presented in this 2006 drama comedy. It’s been sixteen years since Communist dictator Nicolae Ceausescu was overthrown, and one Romanian newsman wants to put the nation’s revolution on the air after the fact. This satirical gem from director Corneliu Porumboiu revolves around the idea of bringing ordinary citizen on air to discuss how their lives have changed post-Communist rule.

Turkey

Midnight Express (1978, Drama) Based on the real experiences of an American tourist who was imprisoned in Turkey for trying to smuggle hashish in the 1970s. With its gripping prison scenes and harsh portrayals of the Turkish police, the film was (and still is) controversial and unpopular in Turkey.

Bliss (2007, Drama) A gorgeous and surprising look at a difficult subject. When a young woman in an extremely traditional village is suspected of sexual relations outside of marriage, one of her distant cousins is recruited to commit an “honor killing,” but ends up trying to protect his potential victim instead.

A Touch of Spice (2003, Comedy/Drama). A favorite in Turkey, this heartwarming story follows a Greek boy growing up in Istanbul as he learns about food and life from his grandfather.

Uzak (Distant) (2002, Drama) Some consider this Istanbul classic to be one of the best Turkish films ever made. It concerns a country bumpkin who becomes the unwelcome guest of his city photographer cousin.

Kedi (2016, Documentary) A heartwarming documentary that follows some of Istanbul's kedis—street cats that are beloved and cared for by multiple humans as community pets. The felines are an institution in Istanbul, and are pretty much given free reign to roam wherever they want—they've been known to show up at fashion shows, concerts, and even inside places of worship.

Greece

Mamma Mia! (2008) and Mamma Mia, Here We Go Again (2018) (Musical Comedy) Yes, there is Meryl Streep and an all-star cast. Yes, there are the bouncy, nostalgic soundtracks based on hits by the 70s supergroup, ABBA. But there are also idyllic Greek islands, and whimsical fantasies about the life you could live there.

Troy (2004, Drama) This may not have been 2004's best film, but it was its highest grossing one, thanks to an all-star cast (Brad Pitt, Peter O'Toole, Brian Cox, Diane Kruger, and Orlando Bloom), sweeping sets, and an epic story based on Homer's Iliad. It concerns the motivations of the central characters as they reach their destinies during the historic battle between the Trojans, and the various Greek armies at their gates.

My Life in Ruins (2009, Comedy) A romantic comedy about a tour guide (Nia Vardalos) set among the ruins of classical Greece. Vardalos also wrote and starred in My Big Fat Greek Wedding.

Zorba the Greek (1964, Comedy/Drama) This classic still stands the test of time. Anthony Quinn plays the iconic Zorba, a lusty and exuberant musician, who strikes up a friendship with an uptight Englishman (Alan Bates) during a picaresque adventure in Greece.

The Guns of Navarone (1961, Action) Follows six Allied and Greek soldiers as they try to disable the two German guns that are preventing the evacuation of British troops from a Greek island in WWII. But the real heavy artillery is the cast—Gregory Peck, David Niven, and Anthony Quinn all won at least one Oscar each during their distinguished careers.
